Election Brings One of Most Spirited Campaigns
in State to End

Evidencing their usual antipathy for early voting, approximately 20 per cent of the registered voters of the city at noon today had cast ballots in the primary election.

In eight precincts checked near noon today, 391 of the 2128 registered voters had expressed their preference for candidates in the nominating election.

There are thirty-seven precincts in the city and it was estimated that at each precinct approximately the same percentage of votes had been cast as at the eight precincts at which the check was made.

Total Registration 10,076.

Registrations for the city totaled 10,076, according to records at the office of J. M. Backs, county clerk.

Election officials pointed out that the female vote would not be much in evidence in the forenoon and prediction was made that there would be heavy voting this afternoon. Prediction was made that at least a sixty per cent vote would be cast on the basis of the fights waged in the first supervisorial district for nomination of a supervisor, and assemblyman.

Polls close at 7 p. m., giving working men and women an opportunity to exercise their voting rights after working hours.

In evidence of the light vote cast throughout the city, only forty-five persons had voted at Rutan's precinct, at 17th and Santiago streets, at 12:20 p. m. today, out of a total registration of 264, while at Wright's precinct, fifty-nine ballots had been cast from a registration of 285 votes. At the Lincoln school precinct, with a registration of 268, only fifty-nine persons had voted at 12:20 p. m.

Light County Vote at Noon

In Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange at noon the vote was comparatively light and had not been up to the expectations of political observers. One of the hardest political campaigns was waged in Anaheim and the light morning vote there was more than a surprise. However, with many business houses closing early it was believed that this afternoon would see a heavy vote in all of the three cities.

Huntington Beach a Normal Vote had been cast at noon and at Newport Beach the heaviest balloting was yet to be encountered. Light balloting was reported from outlying precincts.

The county registration is 36,550.

CHIEF INTEREST IS IN CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Southern California went to the polls today in one of the most spirited general and state elections in recent years.

Three congressional offices, together with vacancies in both houses of the state legislature are to be filled, and early voting in various sections indicated a heavy poll in this part of the state.

Chief interest in the congressional race is centered in the contest between Phil D. Swing, of El Centro, and Ed P. Sample, of San Diego, in the eleventh district. Swing's campaign is based on his past performance, including his work for the Swing-Johnson bill for the development of the Colorado river.

Walter F. Lineberger, of Long Beach, is opposed in the ninth district, while Ralph L. Criswell and Capt. John H. Fredericks, both of this city, have waged a hot campaign for the tenth district nomination.

PULLETS STOLEN.

During the night a thief stole six Rhode Island Red pullets from the poultry yard of Herbert Thwaite at 1795 Lincoln avenue, according to a report at the police station today.

Ownership of False Teeth Crux In Suit

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., Aug. 26.—The delicate problem of whether a person can actually own a set of false teeth without having paid for them must be settled by San Mateo county courts.

Mrs. Josephine Mirata of South San Francisco has filed suit here for $20,000 damages against Dr. C. M. Decker, a dentist, alleging that when she failed to pay his bill he struck her, pried open her mouth and forcibly extracted the teeth.

She wants $15,000 for "shock and suffering," and $5000 more as punishment for the affront.

Attorneys for the dentist claim that Mrs. Mirata's refusal to pay exasperated Decker.

EIGHTY MEN ON BOAT PERILED BY HEAVY SEAS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 26.—Eighty men are believed in peril aboard the government dredge Solos Bar, stranded on South Bar, a half mile off shore here today.

The dredge can be seen from shore, pounded by heavy seas. She is listing to seaward and big waves are breaking over her top decks.

Efforts to bring a lifeboat alongside so far has failed because of the heavy seas.

The dredge is known to carry a large crew and according to one report 80 men are aboard her.

After efforts of the power lifeboat to reach the dredge had failed a government tug succeeded in getting a hawser over the craft and partly righted her. The work was hampered by the heavy swell, however, and coast guards feared the dredge would spring a leak and sink before the crew can be taken off.

The dredge is one of two that have been working on the channel here. She was torn loose from her moorings at 1:00 a. m. and swept out into the sea by the high wind, stranding on the bar.

"Badge Bandit" Denounces Wife

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Called to the witness stand again in his own defense, Harry J. Dunlap, "badge bandit," accused of robbery, assaults with intent to kill and attacks on women, testified for a short time during his trial today.

Dunlap did not enlarge much on his story of Friday, and spent most of the time in a further denunciation of his wife, whom he accused of attempting to give him away to the police.

Milton Carlson, handwriting expert, followed Dunlap to the witness stand and, as a prosecution witness, declared the letter alleged to have been written by Dunlap to his wife in which he admitted that he was a thief, is undoubtedly in the "badge bandit's" handwriting.

Navy Lieutenant Killed By Plane

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 26.—Lieut. Conrad A. Krez, U. S. N., was almost instantly killed at the North Island naval air station here today when he stepped in front of an airplane as it was about to take off.

The flyer in the death plane and Krez are each thought to have been unaware of the presence of the other. Krez, walking from behind a hangar, was caught in the whirling propeller. His wife of this city and father of Sheboygan, Wis., survive him.

World Flyers To Make Last Water Jump on Thursday

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—The final gap between the American round the world aviators and shores of the North American continent will be bridged Thursday, according to advices received by Admiral Magruder from Lieut. Lowell Smith.

The two pilots, now at Iquitos, are installing new engines in the planes and as soon as the installation is completed they will take off for Indian Harbor, Labrador.

SENTENCE OF DUNLAP WILL BE EXTENDED

Badge Bandit Convicted on Seven Charges after Brief Deliberation

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Harry J. Dunlap, the "badge bandit," will appear in court Thursday morning to hear sentence passed upon him which, at the maximum, could keep him in the state penitentiary for 200 years.

For Dunlap last night was found guilty of criminal assault, assault with intent to commit murder and five counts of robbery, which at the very least, will confine him to state's prison for 15 years.

The jury's verdict was returned after three hours deliberation. Members of the jury said they had no trouble reaching an agreement, the delay being occasioned by the necessity of balloting on each of the charges.

Dunlap received the verdict with the same stolidity which has featured his demeanor since he was arrested some weeks ago in Detroit. He cursed a bit under his breath, and on leaving the courtroom, paused long enough to kick over a newspaper photographer's camera.

Attorney Milton Golden, who defended Dunlap, gave oral notice of an appeal.

PRESIDENT ON TOUR SHAKES 1000 HANDS

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 26.—President Coolidge will spend most of today shaking hands with a thousand Michigan farmers and their wives, members of the National Grange, making an automobile tour of New England, and inspecting farm conditions.

The party arrived at Rutland, 26 miles from here last night and will drive past Col. Coolidge's home to greet the President.

General Charles G. Dawes, the President's running mate, left for Chicago last night after a brief visit with Mr. Coolidge.

No reference to the Ku Klux Klan according to Dawes, was made in their two hour conference.

It had been assumed that the President wished to talk over the Klan problem with Dawes, which has now become a leading subject of discussion in the campaign but his ignoring the topic has left the party leaders still at sea as to how he will handle it.

American Given His Release By Mexican Bandits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—After being held for ransom by native bandits in the Mexican hills for eight days, R. G. Barricane, American lumberman, is free and on his way to Durango, according to state department advices received today from the American consul at Durango.

Barricane telegraphed the consul from Tehuacan, where he was captured, that he was released August 23. He is a native of South Carolina and manager of the Rock Hard Lumber Turpentine company. The Mexican government sent out a military troop a week ago to search for him.

Woman Piles Up 90,000 Lead In Texas Balloting

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 26.—A lead of approximately 90,000 was tabulated for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson today over Felix D. Robertson for the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination on the basis of incomplete returns from Saturday's run-off primary.

Returns from 238 counties, including 159 incomplete, gave the woman candidate 427,225 votes and Robertson 337,832.

Glendale Pair In Auto Wreck Hurt

SANTA MARIA, Aug. 26.—W. H. Wells, 40, of Glendale, is dead here and his bride of three weeks lies seriously injured in a hospital as the result of an automobile crash four miles north of this city late yesterday.

SEEK RIGHTS OF WAY FOR NEW HIGHWAY

County Road Chief Reports Good Progress for New Laguna-Serra Road

Steady progress being reported by the committee engaged in securing right-of-way for the new Coast highway between Laguna Beach and Serra, the county engineer, has been in some difficulty working out the problem of crossing the Santa Fe tracks and then descending to the grade of the present boulevard on the other side.

A definite date for completion of the right-of-way is not as yet determinable, however, McBride said, as several engineering problems remain to be worked out. On that account, he stated, the exact route of the highway at some points is unsettled, notably at Serra, where the Coast highway ends by joining the present state highway.

The present highway parallels the Santa Fe railroad so closely at that point that the highway engineers, according to McBride, have been in some difficulty working out the problem of crossing the Santa Fe tracks and then descending to the grade of the present boulevard on the other side.

Make Fill over Creek

Present plans for routing the new highway across Aliso creek, which has heretofore been the subject of some division of sentiment, it is said, calls for a fill straight across the mouth of the creek, McBride said. Joe Thurston, whose property the road crosses there, favors a swing away from the beach at that point, it is understood, advocating a route following somewhat the route of the present road. The highway commission, however, favors the straight route as eliminating bad curves and being generally more practical from the standpoint of the traveling public. The plan of Commissioner N. T. Edwards is said to favor bringing the highway along the sea wherever feasible. The Aliso fill will have an elevation of about four and a half feet at its lowest point, McBride said.

The other is at San Juan creek, where two bridges may be required, as the creek bed measures half a mile in width, he stated.

Members of the right-of-way committee are Roy Skidmore, A. B. Marshall, Joe Peabody, J. W. Conkey, Joe Thurston, N. Elliot West and Elmer Jahraus, all residents of Laguna Beach.

FIERY CROSS IS BURNED AT CAMP

CAMP CUSTER, Mich., Aug. 26.—Drastic action was threatened today by General Moseley, commanding officer at Camp Custer, if another attempt to burn a fiery cross is made within the confines of the camp. At the head of a detachment of soldiers the general routed a large group gathered about a burning cross on a hill late last night.

Most of the demonstrators had fled by the time the troops arrived but about 35 persons were held in the guard house for investigation.

The majority of them, however, are believed merely to have been spectators.

General Moseley has issued a warning against any further gatherings in the camp.

La Follette Men Seek To Submit Party Electors

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Petitions for circulation in fourteen counties of the state to put independent electors on the ballot for the November general election were sent out today by La Follette headquarters here.

August 31 is the first day under the law upon which such initiative petitions may be filed and La Follette lieutenants plan to pass them around at all gatherings on Labor Day in an effort to achieve their purpose in a single day.

REGISTER TO GIVE RETURNS ON ELECTION THIS EVENING

As on previous occasions, the Register is prepared to render unexcelled service tonight on the results of the primary election.

Shortly after the polls close at 7 o'clock, this paper will begin receiving reports from city, county and state, showing how the candidates are running.

These reports will be flashed by stereopticon on the south wall of the post office building. Inquiries made by telephone to Phones 90 or 1650 will be promptly answered.

The ballot counting is not expected to take long, and fairly comprehensive reports should be available within a comparatively brief period after the polls close.

Fruit Sniffing Protested By L. A. Vendor

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Pete Harrison, a sanitary fruit vendor, has tried in vain to keep people from "sniffing," his wares. Today, in an appeal which the council considered, but turned down, Pete asked an ordinance to back him up.

"People with no intentions of buying, pick up my fruit and squash it," Pete complained. "One woman with a cold sneezed all over my peaches."

The council, however, refused to enact the statute Pete requested.

"We can't stop people from sniffing at fruit they think of buying," Councilman Baker declared, moving that the petition be filed.

WHITTIER MAN IS JAILED ON THREE CHARGES

WHITTIER, Aug. 26.—Charged with three serious crimes, a man giving the name of Robert L. Sherry was in jail here today, following his arrest after creating a disturbance in a Santa Fe Springs drug store late yesterday.

Sherry entered the store and asked for a "drink." When R. A. Boll, the clerk, handed him a glass of water, Sherry pulled a revolver and declared that wasn't the kind of a drink he wanted. The men grappled and Sherry fled to his machine outside.

Constable Charles Flood, in pursuit, finally captured Sherry after, it is alleged, he drove his machine into three or four other cars. He is charged with reckless driving, possession of liquor and assault with a deadly weapon.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT FOILS DETECTIVES

REDDING, Calif., Aug. 26.—The man seen near the Oregon border Sunday morning and reported to be Roy D'Autremont, notorious train robber, has vanished apparently into thin air, Shasta county officers and Southern Pacific railroad detectives reported today.

The man supposed to be D'Autremont, driving a red automobile, and followed by another car of the same color, with three men in it, was last seen near La Moine, north of here at 3 a. m. Monday.

When the two automobiles failed to reach Redding it was assumed that they had been turned off into the wild canyon country east of La Moine. Search of the district failed to reveal trace of them.

D'Autremont has a reward of $4,800 on his head because of his alleged connection with the robbery of a train near Siskiyou last October. Four trainmen were shot and killed.

L. A. COUNCIL HEARS STREET CHANGE SCHEME

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—A scheme to bring Washington street directly into the heart of the city's business district by cutting it diagonally through two miles of territory heavily built up at an estimated cost of $500,000, was presented to the city council today by the Greater Washington Boulevard association.

The plan proposes that the new street will connect in the downtown area with Broadway and Main streets at Tenth.

The proposed improvement, Councilman Wheeler said, would be perhaps the most extensive street project ever contemplated by any municipality.

The plan proposes that Washington street shall be continued due east from Hoover street, at which point Washington jogs sharply to the southeast. By straightening the street to the east, it would diagonally intersect more than 15 city blocks and cross over such streets as Sixth, Tenth, Pico and Tenth streets. It would be necessary to condemn a right-of-way involving hundreds of city lots which have been improved with business blocks, office buildings, hotels and apartment houses.

Plans for the improvement were made by engineers retained by the association and which would pay for the project extends from Tenth and Main streets to the westerly boundary of the city, taking in many thousands of lots.

The council referred the plan to its public works committee for consideration.

DEFENSE OF BOY KILLERS COMPLETED

Darrow Brings Tears to Eyes of Listeners with Plea for Mercy

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 26.—The defense of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb was completed before Chief Justice John R. Caverly today.

Benjamin Bachrach, personal attorney for the Leopold family, brought the defense case to a close with a brief argument in which he summarized all the testimony presented in an effort to save the two young slayers of Robert Franks from the gallows.

With Bachrach's closing argument which ended one of the most brilliant appeals for mercy in the history of Chicago courts, defense arguments were opened last Friday by Walter Bachrach, who spoke for three hours. He was followed by the fast aging Clarence Darrow, "old lion of the defense," who brought tears to the eyes of hundreds of court fans with his vigorous demand for "mercy, justice and understanding."

Darrow consumed eight hours with his argument, leaving only a general summary for Benjamin Bachrach today.

When Bachrach finished Justice Caverly ordered a recess for a few moments following which State's attorney Robert E. Crowe started the closing argument for the prosecution. Crowe, demanding a death sentence, is prepared to argue at least four hours.

Bachrach made a general summary of the case, dwelling largely on the medical testimony. He attacked the testimony given by Dr. William O. Krohn, chief alienist for the state, whose testimony he said is at variance with the testimony of the other state alienists.

Play State Alienist

Bachrach pointed out that Dr. Krohn's conclusions were that the boys showed no evidence of mental disease while every other alienist summoned by both the state and defense "were agreed on one of two things—that medical disease was present or there was evidence showing the possibility of mental disease."

The crime itself is ample evidence of the mental state of the slayers, Bachrach said. There was no motive in the killing and this lifts it out of the realm of human understanding.

The fantasies of Nathan and Richard existed so long that they were "projected into reality," Bachrach said.

Film Camera Man Sought By Police

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—The local police have been asked to aid in the search for Howard Webster, camera man for the Foto Scope Motion Picture Corporation of Oakland, who disappeared in this city on August 10 with two rolls of undeveloped film of an earth slide that were to have been used in a moving picture. Max O. Miller, president of the company, in his report to the police, said the films were valued at $5000. Webster disappeared after he left a local hotel for the American Railway express office to ship the films.

Irish Woman To Get Rich Estate

MARTINEZ, Aug. 26.—Sarah Jane McMahon, now living in Ireland, is the sole heir of John McMahon, a San Pablo dairyman who died last week, leaving an estate worth more than $100,000. The girl, a niece of McMahon's, inherits dairy cattle and land near San Pablo.

Parents Blamed For Juvenile Crime

LOS GATOS, Aug. 26.—The spread of juvenile crime and delinquency in California and other parts of the United States may be attributed to lack of parental discipline in the home, the use of cigarettes, vanity cases, the wearing of bobbed hair cut in extreme styles and the craving for good times surrounded by circumstances of temptations, declared Judge F. B. Brown of the juvenile court of Santa Clara county in an address before the Kiwanis club today.

"Give a boy or girl a high-powered automobile and too much spending money and he or she is sure to get into mischief," said the jurist.

Pilots Blazing Airplane to Safety in Lake

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—A heavy flight with his plane on fire ended safely last night for Lieut. Dixie Kiefer of the U. S. S. California. He landed on Lake Washington near an airplane tender with one wing and the pontoons of his ship blazing.

Lieut. Kiefer said that while flying over Seattle en route to the Bremerton navy yard to Sand Point aviation field a gasoline connection started to leak, dripping fuel, and later catching fire. The airman headed his plane for Lake Washington and drifted to the water near the tender Gannett. The latter's crew saved the rest of the airplane and it is being repaired today. Kiefer was burned about the hands.

EASTERN COAST SWEEP BY GALE DURING NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The tropical hurricane that lashed the North Carolina coast has careened northeastward, the weather bureau reported today, warning the entire coastline up to Boston of the approach of the storm.

Gales swept a path 300 miles wide up the coast from the Carolinas during the night, but no distress signals from ships at sea were received by the naval communication service here.

A warning was issued of the approach of the hurricane yesterday afternoon and many coastal vessels sought shelter before it broke. Oceanic and the William Rockwell, a Standard Oil tanker.

A report was received that Coraco Island just off the coast from Beaufort, Virginia, was being flooded by mountainous waves lashed up by gales. Telegraph and telephone communications went out soon after the report was received.

The island has several hundred inhabitants.

At Ocean Beach resorts all along the Maryland and Virginia coasts high tides, rough seas and heavy winds were reported with little damage done.

DAVIS IS BACKED ON STAND

Plank Opposing Hooded Organization Is Adopted After Bitter Fight

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE GIVEN AN OVATION

Compared to Jefferson and Wilson by James Cox in Introduction Speech

MEMORIAL HALL, COLUMBUS Ohio, Aug. 26.—The Ohio Democratic state convention, rent by the Klan issue, gave John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, a mighty ovation when he addressed it today, hammering home the issues of the presidential campaign.

Although Davis wished to avoid further reference to the Klan issue he walked into a hall still seething with a bitter controversy over the Klan question. Shortly before Davis reached Memorial hall the anti-Klan element of Ohio Democracy after a fierce battle had adopted a plank in the state platform denouncing the Klan by name and employing much of the same language used by Davis in his Seagirt speech in which he condemned the order.

James M. Cox introduced Davis as a "Crusader preaching the gospel of honesty, justice in Democratic affairs and broad humanity in our foreign relations."

He compared Davis in ability and character to Jefferson, Adams and Wilson.

The Democratic candidate demonstrated his determination to stress the "honesty in government" issue at Newark, Ohio, this morning when he addressed a crowd.

"The message I am carrying to the people is honesty in government—whether they do or do not want in this country an honest, candid and a fearless government," he said.

"I believe the Democrats can furnish them with such a government and I believe the American people are going to vote in favor of it in November."

Davis was met at the Columbus station by Governor Vic Donahey, ex-Governor James E. Campbell, Ex-Governor James M. Cox and Judson Harmon and Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and Ed Leach and George White, former chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The mention of Woodrow Wilson's name brought lusty cheers from the crowd. Davis began speaking at 2:15 with a roar of Ohio's democracy in his ears.

Davis soon launched into his thesis "Honesty is Government" which he declared was the supreme issue before the country, whether those in power choose to make it so or not.

In giving his definition of a Democrat, Davis said:

"A Democrat is one who wants the record of his party remembered; a Republican is one who wants the record of his party forgotten."

With that introduction he began an analysis of President Coolidge's speech of acceptance. Davis referred humorously to Coolidge's statement regarding the accomplishment of the administration in international relations. He said that even the Washington arms conference was of doubtful value.

NONEGARIANS AMONG FIRST TO CAST BALLOTS TODAY; OLDEST VOTER IS SOUGHT

At which precinct in the city of Santa Ana did the "oldest voter" today cast his vote?

That was the question propounded by the election board of Precinct No. 31, housed in the Jefferson school building where in the early hours of the morning, two voters who might aspire to the honor of being the oldest, appeared within a few minutes of each other to cast their vote in the primary election.

The nonegarians were Charles Stine of 415 West Washington avenue and William L. Wilhite of 315 West Washington avenue, each just ninety-three years "young" and to each of whom, voting is a civic duty which every patriotic American should perform.

In the case of Mr. Stine the physical act of voting was difficult, indeed, for the aged patriot is blind and his fingers needed to be guided with care when he casts his vote.

Later in the forenoon when the second nonegarian appeared and registered as ninety-three years of age, the members of the board, if he too might need aid from them.

The offer was refused as courteously as it was made, the old gentleman declaring that he was a great believer in doing things for himself as long as he was able.

"I've done everything for myself all my life," he declared. "I always expect to do everything for myself as long as I'm on this world until it comes to burying myself—I don't suppose I'd have much luck at that, would I?" and chuckling at his own joke walked firmly into the booth and made out his ballot for himself.

Precinct No. 31 has quite the atmosphere of a social function, for the election board, wearying of the deadly routine of service, arranged to have music as an accompaniment to the day's voting. So with a large phonograph installed, the voters of that precinct may "say it with songs" as well as ballots. Members of the board are Mrs. Frances Telford, Miss Monta Hilliard, E. B. Covington, Plummer Burns, Ed Waite and Mrs. C. A. Custer.

TWO INJURED WHEN AUTOMOBILES MEET

As the result of a traffic accident in which their automobile was demolished late yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Warner of R. F. D. 3, Santa Ana, today was nursing serious injuries. Warner has a fractured collarbone and his wife sustained several fractured ribs.

Warner's car and an automobile driven by Anita Villa of R. F. D. 5, Santa Ana, were traveling west on Fifth street when Warner attempted to turn south into a side street beyond the Buena road. As the car started diagonally across the street the Villa machine was said to have struck it broadside. Warner's car tipped over, and the other machine was only slightly damaged.

The injured couple were taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital where they were administered first aid. Later, last night, they were removed to their home.

Man Sent to Jail Joins Wife There

Charles Gillis of Cypress rejoined his wife today after a brief separation, Gillis being landed in the county jail on a charge of possession of liquor, together with a prior conviction of a similar offense. At the time of the raid Gillis was not found, but Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams took him into custody in West Anaheim late yesterday. Gillis will be arraigned probably tomorrow before Justice Jack Landell, it was stated. The charge against him is a high misdemeanor.

DROWNED GIRL IDENTIFIED
BY MATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The body of an attractive young woman in a bathing suit, washed up by the tide at a lonely spot on the ocean beach two miles south of Port Funston, was later identified by Nathan Freedman, 754 Twenty-third avenue, as that of his wife, Mrs. Sadie Freedman.

Mrs. Freedman, according to her husband, was in the habit of swimming at this point, and it is believed that she swam out too far and succumbed to weariness in her efforts to reach the beach again.

Body Carried for Mile

The body was found by Arthur Erickson, 1038 Broderick street. He dragged it up beyond reach of the tide, and then tramped over the dunes to notify H. P. Oman, look-out guard at the South Side Life-saving Station. Together the men carried the body for more than a mile over the dunes to the Balloon drive road that leads to Port Funston.

The body was taken to the morgue, where Freedman identified it.

Election returns and a banquet were announced today by W. W. Wasser, secretary, as added features for tonight's meeting of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., at which five candidates will be initiated by officers of the Anaheim lodge of Elks. It was expected a number of members of the Mother Colony lodge would accompany the officers here.

Persons from various states have been holding picnics at Orange county park recently, but according to Mrs. Mary McMillan there are sufficient persons in this district from Ottawa county, Kansas, to hold a "regular state picnic." As a result it has been planned to hold such an event on Labor day at the Orange county park for all present and former residents of Ottawa county, Kansas, and their friends.

Announcement by S. O. Beery, president of the Michigan State society, was made today of the fall picnic on Sunday, September 7, at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. The park department has issued a permit giving the society the use of the park in that date and it is anticipated that a record breaking crowd of former Michigan residents and their friends will fill the park to capacity. A program of keeping with the day's registry for every county, basket digger at noon and coffee for all.

Missionary Society

In completing plans for the all-day picnic of the Spurgeon Memorial Missionary society to be held at Huntington Beach Friday, August 29, it was today stated that those wishing transportation should call either Mrs. A. E. Martin at 1229-W or Miss Linda Paul, 154-J.

Fraternal Brotherhood

Fraternal brotherhood members are anticipating a merry outing Thursday when they will gather at Orange county park for a pot-luck supper at 7:30 p. m. Each member is privileged to ask friends to join in the event and a record-breaking crowd is anticipated.

Daughters of Confederacy

Mrs. John Lockett of the Emma Sanson chapter, U. D. C., has received an invitation from William C. Harrison, commander of the Pacific Division United Confederate Veterans, for the local chapter to join in a picnic at South Park, Los Angeles, September 6. All southern veterans with their descendants will be welcomed at the affair.

Old Soldiers at Big Iowa Fair

Smith Asking Name Change; Picks 'Another'

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—Henry Monroe Smith, setting forth that the name he bears carries with it no distinction, wants it changed and has filed a court petition here to that effect.

"I don't mind the name of Smith," he declared in his petition, "but I'm having trouble with the two first names. Henry M. Smith is not so good, H. M. Smith is worse and Monroe Smith is begging the question."

So plain Henry Smith wants to cash in on what the other fellow thinks every time he is introduced.

"Ah, 'another Smith,'" they either think or say, "wails Henry, 'so I want just one Christian name—Another.'"

"I want to be known as 'Another' Smith."

EXTEND TIME FOR WRITING M-M LETTERS

An announcement made by P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, today that the letter writing contest inaugurated by the association some weeks ago has been extended one week.

It was originally planned that the closing date for the contest would be Monday, September 1, but owing to the fact that many Santa Ana residents have been away on vacations during the last three weeks it has been thought best to postpone the closing date to September 8 to give all a chance, Lucas said.

The contest embodied prizes of $15 and $10 for local women setting forth reasons why residents of their town should trade in the stores of Santa Ana rather than spend their money outside this city.

According to Mr. Lucas many women have already sent in letters embodying striking ideas.

"The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association made no mistake when it stated in the advertisement in The Register of August 4 that it believed our local women realized the benefits of trading at home," Mr. Lucas declared today.

"The letters received show that they do understand the points we have attempted to convey in our advertising campaign, namely, that one of the fundamental facts underlying city building is that the greater the proportion of local money put back into local channels of trade the faster and more substantially the city will grow. Furthermore, they are showing plainly in their letters that they realize that the more money is spent at home the larger and better stocked the local stores can carry."

"Many women have already sent in letters," Mr. Lucas continued, "and these letters show a high sense of public spirit and loyalty to Santa Ana. Now, to give those who have been away for the summer a chance to get in on the contest we have decided to receive letters up to September 8 and will announce the winners as soon as possible afterward, probably about a week later."

The full conditions of the contest were announced in The Register of August 4 on page 7. The first prize is $15, in merchandise, the second $10 in merchandise. The letters must not be more than 500 words in length.

KID AM'COY IS TAKEN TO BED OF HIS MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Cheered by the visit of her son, known to the sporting world as Kid McCoy, but cherished by her as "my boy," Mrs. Mary E. Selby was reported strengthened today, infused with a new vigor which may stay the hand of death indefinitely.

For Mrs. Selby, born down by the weight of her 76 years and her son's latest difficulties, is suffering from severe heart trouble which, physicians say, must eventually prove fatal.

Last night, however, by the order of a humane court, the "Kid" was taken from the cell where he has been confined since faced with the charge of slaying Mrs. Teresa Moss, his paramour, and under guard, driven to his mother's bedside.

There, while deputies stood aside, he knelt by her, and there was a sorrowful reunion. "I didn't do it, mother," the "Kid" was heard to say.

And with the faith which characterizes a mother's life, Mrs. Selby whispered:

"I know you didn't if you say so, my boy."

Back in his cell today McCoy awaited another court appearance Thursday when he will plead to the charge against him. It is anticipated an attempt will be made to quash the indictment. Failing in this, a "not guilty" plea will be entered, with insanity the basis of the "Kid's" defense.

SHEFFIELD ACCEPTABLE

ABDUCTION OF YOUNG WOMAN CAUSE ARREST

Startling relations were made at the sheriff's office today when the arrest of Bastista Cortez, 24, of El Modena, caused authorities to bare teeth concerning the kidnapping of Friday of Miss Ida Cortez, 23, who, according to officers, is related to the Cortez charged here are still mystified because of the disappearance of the young woman, and today after he arrested man had been grilled by deputies no light was thrown on the situation. The official have no clue as to the whereabouts of Ida Cortez, according to Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan.

Prior to this morning, no report had been made at the sheriff's office concerning the crime which is charged against Cortez. Neither was the disappearance of Ida Cortez reported until the accused man was in jail.

According to the story told at the district attorney's office, Bastista Cortez and two other Mexicans last Friday drove a light touring car to the house in El Modena where the young woman was staying. Cortez was said to have gone into the house, picked up the woman and, assisted by one of his companions, carried her to the automobile which quickly left the scene.

The arrest of Cortez was brought about after Marcelino Cortez, a relative of the kidnaped girl, swore out a complaint charging Bastista Cortez with abduction.

It was expected that the arrested man will be arraigned in Justice Landell's court tomorrow afternoon.

FUNERAL HELD THIS MORNING FOR J. R. PAINE

Funeral services for James Robert Paine, prominent retired realtor, who died at his home at 1818 North Main street, early Saturday morning, were held from the funeral chapel of Smith and Tuttle, at 10 a. m. today. The services, conducted by the Rev. Father H. Eumelen, pastor of the St. Joseph's Catholic church, though simple, were deeply impressive.

Mme. Manuela Budrow added comfort and sympathetic expression to the services by singing two solos, "Lead I Go Astray" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." These numbers added greatly to the impressiveness of the last sad rites.

In attest to the prominence of the family and of the many friends of Mr. Paine, the chapel was filled with beautiful flowers.

Following the regular services, special services at the grave were held by the Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E. Interment was made in Fairhaven cemetery.

The pall bearers were: J. D. Wilson, J. R. Porter, A. B. Havens, Charles C. Fife, Cal D. Lester and George Edgar.

Aged Man Jailed In Beating Case By Local Police

A 63-year-old man was in jail here today accused of beating his 57-year-old wife.

Lewis Pond, of 621 North Spurgeon street, is the man, who, according to the police, "could not stand his wife's antagonism."

Persons living near the Pond home summoned the police, explaining that they heard the woman groaning while the husband was believed to be administering a severe beating.

Officer Sid Smithwick, after viewing what he termed "welts and bruises" on the elderly woman, signed a complaint charging Pond with battery.

DIVORCE IS DENIED TO PARTED POUTERS

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 26.—Holding in effect that five months was too little time for a fair test of marriage, Judge Henry W. Fuller, in the Luzerne County Court, refused a divorce asked by Victoria H. Kimbert of Nanticoke, from John Kimbert, of Nanticoke, and directed the respondent to file an answer to the charge of desertion, and that both appear before the court for a hearing.

In declining to grant a divorce the Judge said:

"Libellant is respondent's second wife; respondent is libellant's second husband, each having contributed two ready-made children to the alliance; both, therefore, having abundant matrimonial experience, and both being old enough to exercise a little matrimonial discretion for the sake of themselves, their children and the community."

"Paired in July, and pouting for five months, they parted in December."

"Such is the brief epitome of their second experiment."

"Five months afford too little time for fair test, and we are not satisfied that good grounds have been established by the meager dispositions which the master returns with his recommendation of a decree."

Nursery Yields Two Big Stills at Wintersburg

Two 100-gallon liquor stills and a 20-gallon still were being exhibited at the sheriff's office today while Clarence Ward, 29, was seriously regarding possession charges at the county jail here.

The three stills and sixteen barrels of mash were taken in a raid executed last yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Ed McClellan, J. Ryan, R. Wallace, J. Elliott and D. Adams.

The "young brewery" was found hidden in a small structure inside a huge lath house at the palm nursery three miles southwest of Wintersburg, the officers stated. The palm nursery formerly was a government experimental station before Ward, who claims to be a Huntington Beach oil worker, took up his residence on the property.

Ward will be arraigned before Justice John Landell tomorrow morning.

MOSQUITOS STILL CONTROL CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Relief from the swarm of man-eating mosquitoes which has practically destroyed outdoor life in Chicago and its suburbs during the last few weeks cannot be expected before the first frost, Dr. Herman Brundeson, city commissioner of health, announced today.

Driven frantic by the blood-thirsty pests, residents, particularly in the outlying districts, have almost swamped the commissioner's office with requests for advice on how to deal with the insects and their bites.

Dr. Brundeson has given them nothing more than the cheerful information that there is little danger that disease will be spread by mosquito bites as the swarm which has made its appearance apparently is a non-dangerous variety.

In the meantime he advised sufferers that the best they can do is to remain indoors behind screens and depend on right hand swatters to eliminate such blood suckers as are particularly vicious.

MRS. JAS. RUSSELL FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

COSTA MESA, Aug. 26.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. James Russell, 85 years old, who passed away at her home in Newport Sunday evening. Funeral services will be held at Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale.

Mrs. Russell was the mother of F. E. Russell, prominent local real estate dealer. She came to Newport about two months ago with her daughter, Mrs. Phillip Goodwin of Redlands. Mrs. Russell came to Los Angeles in 1885 from Scotland, with her husband and family.

For several years the family resided at Los Angeles, later becoming engaged in farming in the San Fernando district before moving back to Los Angeles to engage in the mercantile business. Mrs. Russell's death came suddenly Sunday evening.

The family consists of Mrs. Frank Stewart of London, England; John Russell, of Los Angeles; W. B. Russell of Hollywood; Mrs. Phillip Goodwin, of Redlands; Alexander Russell, of Sierra Madre; Charles Russell, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Elmer Hartman of Los Angeles; and P. E. Russell of Costa Mesa.

Rip Van Winkle Local Visitor

Rip Van Winkle visited Santa Ana today and was received by Mayor Tubbs. Rip was very much impressed with the growth of Santa Ana in the past twenty years and says it is one of the most beautiful cities in Southern California. To the many inquiries as to where he had been and what had happened to him, Rip would only say that he would tell his story to all at Idyllwild, Mt. San Jacinto on the Labor Day holidays, Aug. 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

Garnet Holme has arranged for a company of players to help Rip tell just what happened.

Harold Brewster plays the title role, with Mrs. Henry Herbert as Gretchen, his wife. Miss Sue Servance plays Meenie, the daughter of Rip.

KLAN SPEAKER MAKES ANSWER TO DIST. ATTY.

In his second address in Orange county within the past two weeks, on "The Principles of the Klan," Dr. Horace Lackey, lecturer, took occasion to answer District Attorney A. P. Nelson, following Nelson's statement here, last week, in which he named a list of candidates in today's primary, who he said, would receive the Klan's support, and to answer Nelson's declaration that the Klan is un-American "because it fosters racial and religious hatred."

"It is not the custom of the Ku Klux Klan to strike back, but this is a critical time, and the election this fall will determine the course that civilization will take during the next four years. If the principles of the Klan fail, then America will fail, and if America fails, civilization fails," he said.

Dr. Lackey's talk was largely political, although at times he did make a strong appeal for the Klan and for its principles. His talk, at times, was very much on the same order as the one delivered here approximately two weeks ago.

Attacks Nelson
He began his attack on Nelson by reading a statement signed by Bert E. Dawson, candidate for supervisor, which was an answer to a statement charged to A. P. Nelson, that Dawson was virtually kicked out of Nelson's office, and in which, Dawson asked Nelson to state on "which of the several evils it was necessary for me to pay him before he would consent to the Whitted prosecution. I was kicked out of his office." This was followed by the reading of an affidavit, said to be signed by I. M. Owens and his daughter, which in substance, stated that they appeared before Nelson on several different occasions, in an effort to have Dr. Whitted prosecuted and that "He (Nelson) endeavored to discourage us in causing Whitted's arrest." The affidavit also charged that Nelson asked them to come to his office at 10 o'clock the following morning, and he would have Whitted there, and "try to fix the matter up." It went on to state that it was only after Bert E. Dawson had been persistent in seeing Nelson, that Whitted was arrested and convicted.

"Mr. Nelson said that there was no place in America for the Ku Klux Klan, that it was like unto an organization that causes bloodshed. He ought to be competent to think for himself, but a statement like that, could only emanate from a head where you would find no more sense than in a gourd of grasshopper soup."

"I would like to know what is his charge against the Ku Klux Klan. The courts of this country have never convicted it, but it got so hot, they had to drop it, and as a result, the Klan gained 1,000,000 members."

Reads Klan Oath
Here, Dr. Lackey read the oath of the Klansman on entering the Invisible Empire. Finishing, he said, "If Mr. Nelson would refuse to swear to an oath like that, then don't let him call himself an American, to me."

During his talk, made to a large crowd in Birch park, Dr. Lackey drifted back to District Attorney Nelson from time to time. "It would be interesting to know why Mr. Nelson saw fit to 'expose' the Klan. When a public man assails the Klan, I always look up his record—in the penitentiary or elsewhere. I look for the cross on his back, or the kink in his hair, or else I look for him in the asylum. I wish somebody would take a pot shot at the whole crowd that are knocking the Klan for political reasons."

"Mr. Nelson says the Klan is a lawless order. If that is true, why don't he prosecute the klansmen in Orange county. I have been all over the county and everywhere I go, I find klansmen. If it is lawless to be a klansman, then God pity Orange county."

"The klansmen have paraded, but did you ever see an anti-klan parade? I would give $50 to see an anti-klan parade, and would guarantee that it would not be broken up by klansmen. In fact the klansmen would help organize, and police it."

Political Move
In regard to national politics, Dr. Lackey stated that Davis came out against the Klan because he thought that as the Klan was strong in the south and he would carry the south anyway, he must make a bid for New York state and did so by flaying the Klan. He stated that Bryan would not come out against the Klan, and stated that Dawson's speech against the Klan was "gentle" and merely a "clever political trick." "Coolidge has not come out against the Klan, and my personal opinion is, that he will not," said he.

Two weeks ago, when Dr. Lackey was here, he stated that the Klan would win their fight in Texas in the gubernatorial contest there several days ago. Last night he stated in referring to the fact that "Ma" Ferguson, anti-klan was nominated he said: "There were 750,000 votes cast, and there are only 600,000 registered in the state. There were 200,000 Mexicans that voted in Texas, 50,000 Poles and Bohemians, and 100,000 other Catholics, and all the bootleggers voted and every one of them voted against the Ku Klux Klan, and then too, a lot of preachers got off because one of them accused the grand dragon of Texas, who runs a chain of drug stores, of being a bootlegger. And so, we have the sorry spectacle of an impeached criminal's wife, as governor. Ma Ferguson will never be governor of Texas, but her husband will, a man convicted on twenty-one counts, and impeached." He said the Republican Klan candidate would win in November.

Referring to the Klan fight in Oklahoma, Dr. Lackey stated that the Klan, even though against the Klan, had been nominated, "but we have a good Republican running there, and Walton will never go to the senate." His election was effected because every bootlegger, gunman, mobster and half-breed Indian in the state voted for him.

Making No War
Dr. Lackey stated that the Klan was "making war on no one. The Klan is as good a friend to the average Catholic as he has, and as long as the Klan is as strong as it is, the Catholics have nothing to fear, nor the Jew, or any other race that wishes to worship God as they see fit."

Referring to the negro, he stated that the Klan was responsible for a decrease in mob violence in the South amounting to 72 per cent in the past eighteen months.

He took credit for the Klan in establishing the King James Bible, back in the public schools in eight states in the union, and stated that if "politicians and others don't stop fighting us, every native born white man and woman will be members of the Klan."

THINK SUICIDE MAN MATE OF WOMAN SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Additional word was awaited here today from Tucson, Ariz., regarding the identity of a man who committed suicide there Saturday, believed to be R. C. Peete, husband of Mrs. Louise Peete, convicted here as the slayer of Jacob C. Denton four years ago.

Marks on the man's clothing aided in establishing the suicide as Peete, police were informed. Credence is given the report because of the fact that Peet is known to have gone to Arizona for his health.

The "Peete case," as it was known, was one of the most sensational in local court annals. Mrs. Peete was arrested in Denver following the discovery of Denton's body in a rude crypt in the basement of his residence. She had acted as his house-keeper, and this fact coupled her name with the murder.

Peete came to Los Angeles and fought without success for his wife's release.

Girl Is Witness Against Father

REEDLEY, Aug. 26.—How she heard shots in the kitchen of their home and jumped from her seat at the piano she was playing to assist her dying mother, was related in court here yesterday by Lucile Gallaher, 14, witness against her father, J. B. Gallaher, who is charged with the murder of his wife, Georgia, on August 9. Gallaher was held for trial in the Superior Court and remanded to the custody of the Sheriff without bail.

The girl said she entered the house on the afternoon of August 9 and her parents were in ordinary conversation. Then her father announced he was going to Colfax, she testified, and while her parents went to the kitchen, she went to the front room and began playing the piano. Then she heard shots, and her mother staggered to her mortally wounded and succumbed on the front lawn of their home, the witness said.

Miss Whitson Assists Los Angeles Cousin As Brides Maid

Attracting the attention of many local friends of the bride was the marriage on Friday, August 22, of Miss Thelma E. Aldrich of Los Angeles and Edgar F. Elstrom of Chicago.

Miss Aldrich who was a former Santa Ana girl, the daughter of Mrs. Cora Aldrich of this city and now of Los Angeles, chose to be wedded at an impressive home ceremony to which over a hundred guests were bidden. Among her bridal attendants was her cousin, Miss Mildred Whitson of Santa Ana who was a house-guest in the Aldrich home for the nuptial festivities.

The floral decorations for the event were colorful and lovely. A recital preceded the bridal hour of 8 o'clock, with "Hallelujah" "Be-cause" as the featured solo number. At a pause in the musical program, a silver chimed clock sounded the hour of eight. Its chimes blending with the opening bars of Lohengrin played by Mrs. Farnham, to which the bride party entered the room the bride leaning on the arm of her brother, Oscar Aldrich, by whom she was later given in marriage.

Miss Aldrich was lovely in a hand-made lingerie frock of heavy satin, and wore a long veil becomingly arranged. Her flowers were white roses which she carried with lilacs of the valley.

Attending her, a bevy of maids were crowned with soft pastel tints, Miss Whitson of this city in green, Miss Georgette over gold tissue, Miss Kalma Stran in pink crepe and Georgette and Miss Harriet Matthews in orchid. Each carried flowers in artistically contrasting colors.

Mr. Elstrom was attended by his cousin Ernest A. Gore as best man. The Rev. Dr. B. F. Hudson of the Temple Baptist church was the officiating clergyman.

Among the scores of guests gathered for the impressive ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Whitson, Miss Mildred Whitson and Miss Margaret Whitson and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wasser of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Batterman (Miss Alice Wasser) of Orange.

The young Mr. and Mrs. Elstrom left Saturday for Cincinnati, Ohio, traveling by way of the Canadian Rockies with stopovers at various interesting points. In Cincinnati, Mr. Elstrom will resume his place with the Scripps-Howard Newspaper syndicate. As private secretary to E. W. Scripps of the famous organization, he has traveled all over the world, much of his journeying being on the palatial Scripps yacht. His bride too has done secretarial work, having filled the enviable position of private secretary to the general manager of the Mutual Accident Insurance company.

Over Three Score Of Wedded Years

Mr. and Mrs. Shaver are planning to keep everything delightfully informal and to that end have issued no invitations to their friends their intention of recognizing the day so pleasantly and offering the assurance of a warm welcome throughout the afternoon.

Gifts in Gardens are Generously Showered on Bride-Elect

Miss Elsie Raitt whose marriage to Harry W. Woodward will be an event of early September, has been a much-feted bride-elect during the past week, one of the most delightful affairs being the garden party and luncheon presented by Miss Ruth Frothingham and Miss Mary Henderson at the home of the former, 529 South Ross street.

Displaying marked cleverness and ingenuity in carrying out their garden idea, the hostesses first received their guests in the pretty garden where big umbrellas and quantities of gay cushions gave a festive appearance. Within doors the effect was also lovely with quantities of blossoms over which hovered gay butterflies.

In the dining-room where small tables surrounded the larger one arranged for the honor guest, Against the vivid background, pastel tints of rose, lavender, yellow and blue were employed and a shower arrangement from the chandelier offered the same rainbow tints with dozens of butterflies adding to the effect. A low bowl of pink and lavender sweet peas combined with yellow daisies centered each table and each course of the luncheon menu emphasized the garden idea either in color or manner of serving.

The strawberry cocktails with which the luncheon was opened, were served in small flower pots each containing a wee cluster of posies. Butterfly salad was served and finally the sweets course offered lies in flower basket form.

Luncheon concluded, the guests were again escorted to the garden, Miss Raitt being provided with a great umbrella whose frame was twisted with pastel garlands and which was warranted to protect from showers. Since every garden must have its showers, these followed in due course and Miss Raitt's umbrella served to protect her from the most delightful "rain drops" imaginable in the form of pretty gifts in wide variety, all of which will find place in the home she will soon establish.

Guests asked by Miss Frothingham and Miss Henderson to share in the pleasant occasion included in addition to the honor guest, Miss Raitt, her mother, Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mrs. Frances Frothingham, Mrs. Harry Varne, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Walter Vieira, Mrs. Donald Hilliard, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Ray Millman, Mrs. Will J. Lindsay, Mrs. Anna Schweisger, Mrs. Sterling, the Misses Mildred Cook, Fan Smart, Gallene Finley, Laura Henderson, Josie Eilers, Myra Gibson, Alice Marshall, Nancy Marshall, Mabel McFadden and Ada McFadden.

Wisconsin Visitors Are Incentive for Farewell Party

As Mrs. Paul Anderson and Mrs. Hansen were speeding towards Chicago today after an early morning departure via the Santa Fe, they might recall among other delightful events of their extended visit with Santa Ana friends, the details of a farewell party given for them last night by Mrs. A. M. Faccou at her home, 1120 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Anderson of Green Bay, Wis., has been the house-guest of Mrs. Faccou while Mrs. Hansen of Coleman, Wis., has been with her sister, Mrs. S. E. Sorenson, of South Van Ness street. They have been the incentive for many happy affairs during their stay.

At last night's party, Mrs. Faccou used massed African daisies and yellow dahlias in a brilliant and effective decorative scheme. Against the vivid background, pastel tints of rose, lavender, yellow and blue were employed and a shower arrangement from the chandelier offered the same rainbow tints with dozens of butterflies adding to the effect. A low bowl of pink and lavender sweet peas combined with yellow daisies centered each table and each course of the luncheon menu emphasized the garden idea either in color or manner of serving.

The strawberry cocktails with which the luncheon was opened, were served in small flower pots each containing a wee cluster of posies. Butterfly salad was served and finally the sweets course offered lies in flower basket form.

Luncheon concluded, the guests were again escorted to the garden, Miss Raitt being provided with a great umbrella whose frame was twisted with pastel garlands and which was warranted to protect from showers. Since every garden must have its showers, these followed in due course and Miss Raitt's umbrella served to protect her from the most delightful "rain drops" imaginable in the form of pretty gifts in wide variety, all of which will find place in the home she will soon establish.

Guests asked by Miss Frothingham and Miss Henderson to share in the pleasant occasion included in addition to the honor guest, Miss Raitt, her mother, Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mrs. Frances Frothingham, Mrs. Harry Varne, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Walter Vieira, Mrs. Donald Hilliard, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Ray Millman, Mrs. Will J. Lindsay, Mrs. Anna Schweisger, Mrs. Sterling, the Misses Mildred Cook, Fan Smart, Gallene Finley, Laura Henderson, Josie Eilers, Myra Gibson, Alice Marshall, Nancy Marshall, Mabel McFadden and Ada McFadden.

Among the scores of guests gathered for the impressive ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Whitson, Miss Mildred Whitson and Miss Margaret Whitson and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wasser of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Batterman (Miss Alice Wasser) of Orange.

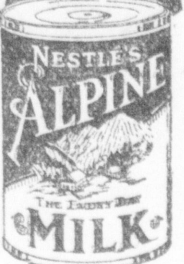

The young Mr. and Mrs. Elstrom left Saturday for Cincinnati, Ohio, traveling by way of the Canadian Rockies with stopovers at various interesting points. In Cincinnati, Mr. Elstrom will resume his place with the Scripps-Howard Newspaper syndicate. As private secretary to E. W. Scripps of the famous organization, he has traveled all over the world, much of his journeying being on the palatial Scripps yacht. His bride too has done secretarial work, having filled the enviable position of private secretary to the general manager of the Mutual Accident Insurance company.

TUSTIN MAN IS INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

D. W. Ware, 68, of Tustin, today was nursing cuts and bruises as the result of having been struck Sunday by the automobile of Paul B. Witmer of 411 South Sycamore street. According to police, the elderly man stepped from behind a parked automobile directly into path of Witmer's car, which was traveling about 12 miles an hour. The man was thrown five feet. The accident occurred on Sycamore street between First and Second streets.

F. L. Seamon of Brea was slightly injured when the automobile in which he was riding collided with the car of D. K. Wilkinson of Garden Grove Sunday noon at La Veta avenue and Main street. Wilkinson told deputy sheriffs here that his steering wheel worked loose and a bump in the road caused his car to turn into the other machine.

While Clarence Miller of Orange attempted to turn his car off the Buaro road near Garden Grove Sunday night, the machine was struck by automobile of J. E. Mullin of Long Beach. Both cars were damaged, but no one was hurt.

At 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning the automobiles of D. L. Kusling of 111 South Artesia street and J. E. Leatherwood collided at First and Bristol streets. Both cars were slightly damaged. At the Santa Ana Valley hospital a man who gave the name of Pasqual Pedis was treated for cuts and bruises which he said he received in an automobile crash Saturday night. No report of the accident was made at the police station or sheriff's office. The man's address was not learned at the hospital.

Grove Man Says Explanation Due

L. A. Aubuchon of Garden Grove, formerly of Orange, is not the Aubuchon who was recently charged with a criminal offense and acquitted after a hearing in justice court here. The Garden Grove man today straightened out a tangle of mixed identities with the above statement.

The man who was in court was A. L. Aubuchon, of Orange, and he was found not guilty, the charge against him being dismissed. L. A. Aubuchon discovered, he said, that some of his friends thought he was the man in the case. His former residence in Orange contributed to the misunderstanding, and the situation was further complicated when a newspaper report of the hearing in court named Aubuchon as "Louis," which is also the given name of the Garden Grove man.

So L. A. Aubuchon thought a statement on the subject was due, he said.

MOVIE DANCER LOSER IN SUIT RESULT OF CAR CRASH IN CITY

Theodore Kosloff Ordered to Pay $44.35 after Trial of Case Monday

EACH BLAMES OTHER

Local Teacher Testifies Car of Dancer Was Going at High Rate of Speed

A court judgment for $44.35 stood here today against Theodore Kosloff, a well-known dancer and film star, while the talented impresario considered whether he would pay it or appeal.

Kosloff's appearance on the witness stand in local justice court, together with that of Miss Kosloff-Flower, 19, one of his dancing girls from the Forum theater, in Los Angeles, attracted much interest to the trial, late yesterday, of Arthur Oliver's suit for $298.84 damages against Kosloff.

Oliver and his wife sued for $250 damages for injuries sustained by Mrs. Oliver and $48.84 damages to the Oliver car, resulting, it was claimed, from a collision between the Oliver and Kosloff machines in front of the Oliver residence on West Fourth street, this city.

Each blamed the other for the accident. Oliver testified that he had turned off Fourth street to enter his driveway and was partly in it when Kosloff's car, which had been following closely, crashed into his machine, dragging it back into the street.

Girl Supports Kosloff Version. Kosloff's version, supported by his young dancing girl, was that Oliver's car stopped in the driveway and rolled back into the street so suddenly that Kosloff could not evade it. There was very little damage, beyond a bent fender, according to the dancers.

According to the famous Russian's story, told in broken English, Oliver was much more concerned over some butter and eggs in his car at the time than about anything else.

That he got out of his car and gave his name to Oliver, asking if there was anything he could do, and inquiring concerning the damage, and was told by Oliver that everything was all right, was the account given by Kosloff. He then drove on, he said, and thought, under the circumstances, it would be unnecessary to report the accident to the police. After driving two blocks, he turned back and drove past the Oliver home again.

He said, thinking that perhaps Oliver might not be able to start the motor of his car, Kosloff remembered, he said, seeing the machine stop and roll back before the collision.

Kosloff testified, in contradiction to Oliver's charge that he had been driving rapidly and that his car

WOMAN OVERCOMES TRAGEDY, SUFFERING TO WIN COVETED COLLEGIATE DIPLOMA HONORS

GRADUATES FROM COLLEGE WITH DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS. Mary O'Malley Sullivan and her unusual career as pictured by the artist.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 26.—The platform in the university hall is hedged with beribboned flowers. Young women, in very new white dresses and with cheeks pinked by excitement, wait nervously; young men, with over-serious faces, wait stiffly.

And there is one with silver streaked hair. She smiles continuously—a sort of spiritual smile transcending earthly things.

The college president calls: "Mary O'Malley Sullivan."

Two stout canes appear from either side of a chair and the silver-haired woman supports herself upon them. There is a storm of applause.

Moment of Triumph. It is "Orphan Mary's" moment of great triumph. She accepts the rolled paper. It is a degree of Bachelor of Arts.

"Orphan Mary" has defeated circumstances, suffering, tragedy and misfortune.

For those who may find the struggle hard or the trail easy, the life of Mary O'Malley Sullivan is a sermon in courage, persistence and complete triumph of the spirit.

The brief outline may provide a sketchy picture:

Orphaned As Child. She was orphaned as a baby. A fall from the porch helplessly crippled her for life a few years later.

At the age of 14 she graduated from the Plains, Pa., high school.

BETTER VIEWS OF MARS WILL COME IN 1949

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 26.—Predictions that better views of Mars may be obtained fifteen years from now than at present were made at the Chamberlin Observatory here today by Dr. Donald H. Wenzel.

"The boiling of the earth's atmosphere is the greatest difficulty with which astronomers have to contend," said Dr. Wenzel. "Fifteen years from now at Mars' next approach to the earth, the planet will be farther north than at present, giving scientists an opportunity for clearer vision, since they will not have so much of the earth's atmosphere to come with."

Dr. Wenzel said that at present astronomers are obliged to point their telescopes along the earth, and that 15 years from now they can point them more directly into the air.

A difference of a few million miles in the distance separating Mars and the earth is not as important, as far as vision is concerned, according to Dr. Wenzel as the earth's atmosphere.

BODY OF MRS. MORS ARRIVES IN EAST

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The body of beautiful Teresa Mors, last of Kid McCoy's loves, arrived home today, met at the station only by an undertaker to whose establishment the body was taken.

At their home in the Bronx Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weinstein, parents of the dead woman, whose love for Kid McCoy brought death instead of romance, remain behind locked doors, keeping their grief to themselves.

They let it be known through another daughter, Mrs. Morris Stein, that funeral services for Teresa would be held Wednesday from the chapel of the undertaking parlors and it will be strictly private.

Fullerton Bank Clerk Changes

FULLERTON, Aug. 26.—Appointment of Ralph G. Rohrer, Jr., for the past two and a half years teller and assistant cashier at the Farmers and Merchants National bank, to a similar post with the Commercial National Bank of Los Angeles, is announced by Waldo O'Kelly, vice-president and executive head of the local institution. He will assume his new duties on September 2.

The promotion of young Rohrer is in line with a stated policy of giving the personnel of affiliated banks an opportunity in a wider sphere of activity. The Farmers and Merchants bank here was recently taken over by the Southern Finance corporation, a subsidiary company of the Bank of Italy.

RAGING RIVER OF MUD FLOWS SLOPE OF PEAKS

McCLLOUD, Calif., Aug. 26.—A raging muddy torrent born of the supposedly eternal snows and ice of Mount Shasta's glaciers which have succumbed to the ardor of the drought and heat which have parched California this summer, is pouring down the slopes of the mountain again today, extending the delta of moraine mud still farther along the upper reaches of McCloud river.

Mud Canyon has become filled with a bubbling, swirling mass of sticky sludge which mixes with the water of the McCloud river, killing the fish and threatening to force the stream far out of its banks.

The great mass of slush gathered in this glacial pocket is melting rapidly and a dozen sluiceways carrying off the snow water are widening and deepening as the soft soil of the mountain yields under the force of the streams.

"It's just as if the mountain were being sluiced down," Trumbull said. "Great cracks have rent the face of the glaciers which look like they are disintegrating. The snow water stream is almost a torrent even at its source and when it unites with the McCloud river in the old Mud creek course the roar can be heard for miles."

Men are working along the Mud creek course of the McCloud to keep the stream within its banks but despite all effort new channels are being cut, new land threatened by inundation by the rising tide of mud.

The end of this, the second rampage of the glaciers this season, is by no means in sight.

"There's ice enough up there to melt for a long time yet," said Trumbull, "and as long as the warm spell lasts there'll be more water and more mud."

Parents Frantic When Little Boy Is Lost At Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 26.—Little Charles Hughes, age 7½ years, caused his parents and the Newport police a great deal of anxiety Sunday afternoon when he disappeared from in front of the Ocean Front bath house in Balboa and remained lost for five hours.

Charles' absence was first discovered by his parents after he had been seen wandering on the beach in Balboa. Several hours later he was picked up by the Newport police nearly three miles down the beach from Balboa.

When questioned by City Marshal J. A. Porter, the lad stood up like a little man and answered all questions asked him without a quiver, but as soon as his distracted parents entered the city hall he broke down and wept in his mother's arms.

The boy's father is Charles Hughes of 1543 San Antonio street, Pomona.

Redlands Pastor Goes to Fullerton

FULLERTON, Aug. 26.—The pastorate of the First Baptist church here has been accepted by the Rev. S. Fraser Langford, B. D. of Redlands. It was formally announced yesterday. He will preach his first sermon here on September 21.

The Rev. M. E. Rolton, the retiring pastor, delivered his last discourse on Sunday and bade his congregation farewell at the close. He left yesterday with his wife and family for McMinnville, Oregon, by automobile. He will assume the chair of public speaking at Linfield College.

MISSING FLYERS TELL OF PLIGHT IN ARTIC OCEAN

ABOARD THE U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—For four days Lieut. Locatelli, Italian airman, and his three flying companions huddled in the shell of their huge metal monoplane—unaware of American cruisers nearby and waiting for rescuers to take them out of the storm-tossed Arctic waters.

Locatelli and his aides, Lieut. Tullio Crosio, Bruno Falcinelli and Giovanni Braccini today are aboard the Richmond—saved late Sunday night when green rockets sent up from the plane were seen by the crew of the Richmond—and are en route to Labrador.

Locatelli was forced down last Thursday.

Every few minutes one of the airmen would crawl through the manhole into the swaying, water-soaked swings, scanning the empty seas. Once, unknown to them, the Richmond passed by just out of their vision, obscured by fog and rain.

From time to time the aviators sent up green rockets and one of these late Sunday attracted attention of the crew aboard the Richmond.

The Richmond trained powerful searchlights on the monoplane and Lieut. Locatelli could be seen standing on the bow of the tossing yellow monoplane.

Locatelli started shouting, using the famous Fascist cry of "Allala." The sailors tossed a line to the crew of the plane and dragged it beside the Richmond. The four Italians stripped the plane of instruments and clothing, punctured the gasoline tank and boarded the Richmond.

Sailors ignited the machine and cast it adrift.

The battle between filial love and devotion, intensified by years of separation, and the urge to get back to her old environment goes on within the girl.

Her old friends are advising her to hold on a little longer. In time, perhaps, will come acclimation. But the hankering to desert the chickens, pigs and hay for trolleys, crowds and subways, seems to be increasing.

ORANGE COUNTY MERCHANTS HIT BY BAD CHECKS REPORTS SHOW

Half Million Lost Annually
According to Manager of Credit Association

POOR STOCKS ARE SOLD

Banker Says Investments
In Certain Securities
Catch Many People.

Orange county merchants lose annually $500,000 through bad credit accounts and in the cashing of bad checks, according to estimates of losses from these sources compiled today by Robert Conway, general manager of the Orange County Credit association.

At the same time, Edward McWilliams, director of the local department of the First National bank, estimated that Orange county investors lose annually approximately $350,000 through investments made in stocks and bonds that may be properly termed fraudulent securities.

McWilliams added the further interesting information that national statistics on finance disclose that successful corporations are as 1 to 800—in other words investors who place money in new corporations place money in one chance in 800 to win.

Giving credit without investigation of the applicant for such favor and fear of giving offense by refusing to cash a check proffered, is assigned by Conway as the cause of the tremendous losses sustained by the merchants in operation of their merchandizing enterprises.

Merchants must make a statement of their financial standing and their assets when they apply to a wholesaler or manufacturer to credit, but when it comes to selling those same goods on credit, as a rule they make no investigation as to the qualifications of a debtor of their contracted obligations when they are due," Conway said.

Amplifying his statement of the estimated losses by Orange county investors, McWilliams said that investments too frequently are made in enterprises where there is no possibility of recouping a reasonable interest on the capitalization or the capital stock issued.

According to Conway, merchants in this county lose annually around $400,000 by bad accounts and approximately $100,000 by fund and foreign checks.

The county losses are of particular interest in connection with a statement by the committee on public affairs of the American Institute of Accounts, that "financial crimes" in the United States cause a loss annually of $3,000,000,000. The statement is based on a survey made by the committee. A loss of $1,600,000,000 is credited to embezzlement and forgeries, $200,000,000 to credit frauds, $400,000,000 to stock frauds, $1,000,000,000 to losses due to the sale of corporate securities of no actual or potential value and the losses resulting from bucket shop and other illegal forms of trading in securities," says the statement. "Over $2,000,000,000 have been stolen from the people of this country since the close of the war through the sale of spurious securities."

Suggesting a remedy for conditions that make such gigantic losses by the mercantile world possible, the committee says that "since crimes are prompted by opportunity, and seldom occur if proper safeguards are rigidly enforced, the remedy lies in the use of procedures and office appliances upon the making of audits, which discourage embezzlement, forgery and financial misrepresentation."

Decree and Child Are Won by Woman

In possession of an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Mordecai E. Owens, Mrs. Marie E. Owens also had a superior court decree today awarding her custody of her little daughter, Violet.

Judge F. C. Drumm heard her complaint late yesterday and granted the divorce on grounds of desertion. Attorney John Clarkson represented Mrs. Owens. The court ordered Owens to pay $25 per month toward support of the child and $10 per month alimony to Mrs. Owens.

skidded and left marks on the pavement before the collision, that he was driving less than fifteen miles per hour.

"You see," he explained, carefully pronouncing his words, "everyone drives slowly in Santa Ana because everyone knows that at each corner there is a cop. I was driving very slowly."

This was also the testimony of Miss Kosloff-Flower, who, in private life, is Miss Flower Wilkinson. Miss Wilkinson and her mother accompanied Kosloff and his attorney, Rolande Maxwell, to the trial.

Kosloff, Miss Wilkinson, and Miss Estelle Reed, another of the Kosloff dancers, were riding in the front seat of the car, they said, being homeward bound from a sketching trip to Laguna Beach. Miss Wilkinson declared that they were driving slowly, and also claimed that Oliver gave no signal when he turned his car into the driveway.

The plaintiff, represented by Attorney Loren Smith, presented no testimony in connection with the alleged injuries of Mrs. Oliver, and no attempt was made to press the claim for damages to her. The repair bill of the car was cut to $44.35 with consent of the plaintiff, and judgment awarded for that sum.

Kosloff's attorney asked and was granted a stay of execution for ten days, indicating a possible intention of filing an appeal to the superior court.

OBSERVATIONS OF MARS HELD TO PROVE HEAT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Most significant are the observations that have been made at Lowell observatory on the heat of Mars. The messages Dr. W. W. Coblentz of the United States bureau of standards has received in the form of heat waves impinging on his radio meter undoubtedly have more meaning in them than radio signals that have been assigned to hypothetical Martians, temperature has been one of Mars' secrets. All astronomers cannot see canals on Mars, but all agree that Mars must have some sort of surface temperature. Last year Dr. Coblentz studied the radiations from Mars.

The average temperature on that planet was found to lie between 48 degrees and 72 degrees Fahrenheit, but because of this atmosphere it seems likely that

Overcomes Much for College Honor

At 15 she was a public school teacher. At 18 she was a normal school graduate. She held a practicing pharmacist's license before she was 20.

She was widowed 18 months after marriage. Was proprietress of a drug store and postmistress for 20 years.

Served in the Treasury department at Washington during the war.

Spent three years helping the sick and disabled in hospitals. These are all records of achievement. They tell nothing of the months spent in hospital cots suffering from her crippled condition and seeking to find help from some of the world's best surgeons.

Nor of pain that often seemed unendurable.

For "Orphan Mary" was never able to escape the companionship of her two stout canes and of physical suffering. Yet her ambition was stronger than her handicap.

In every spare moment she studied. The years sped. Silver strands crept into her hair.

And then, after more than 40 years of struggle—the opportunity of a college course.

To "Penn State college" she became a symbol. Students came to watch her and help her limp up the stairs and through the halls to classroom.

Now that she has won a degree she is not finished. Not Mary O'Malley Sullivan.

"I'll teach for a time and then I'm going to study again," she says.

There is freezing weather on Mars every night and hot weather, about 70 degrees, every mid-day. Many astronomers in the past have believed Mars was very cold and uninhabitable and that life as we know it was out of the question.

Dr. Coblentz has found that the Maritan surface is cooler in the morning and hotter after the sun has shone upon it.

The white capped mountains, probably covered with snow do not give off as much heat as the other parts of the surface. The Maritan tropics are hot, the Maritan temperature zones are cooler. Mars seems quite earthlike in those respects.

There are other observatories to hear from. At Lick observatory, at Mount Hamilton, Calif., they are exposing color sensitive and other special photographic plates through large telescopes.

The fickle human eye is being replaced with reliable scientific instruments made especially to record the radiations that man can know only through the use of his intelligence.

More important than the so-called canals are those firmly rooted and scientific observations. The telescopes will be busy for another month at least, for Mars is not departing from the earth's vicinity with undue haste.

DISCUSSION OF CHEST PLAN TO FEATURE MEET

Organizations Wishing Aid Asked to Attend Meeting At Council Chambers

Stressing the point of the saving in time and energy of active business men that would result by adoption of the community chest plan recommended by the community chest committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Roland Dye, chairman of the committee, today urged that delegates be sent to the meeting at the city council chambers Thursday at 7:30 p. m., by all the agencies wishing to associate in the community chest plan.

Announcing that the meeting would be the first step toward the formal organization of the community chest, Dye said the recommendations will be presented to the delegates from the agencies sending representatives.

He emphasized the statement that discussions at the meeting will deal only with the outline presented by the chamber committee. "Discussion of the merits of the plan will not be had at the meeting," the chairman said. "Neither will any suggestion of the anticipated needs of the various agencies be required."

"That step will be taken at a second meeting to be held in one month, at which time formal adoption, revision or rejection of the plan will be made by all of the agencies expecting to participate," Dye said that it was important that each agency have at least three or four delegates at the meeting to hear the recommendations and raise such questions as will make the matter clear for them to intelligently present to their respective directorates.

"The Chamber of Commerce is merely sponsoring the organization of a community chest and will not endeavor in any way to dictate the policies of the organization, once it is formed," continued the chairman. "Being the logical organization to develop the plan, the chamber will have no control after the formal organization of community chest." Suggesting a fund of $40,000 the committee named as possible participants in the fund the Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Boy Scouts, Red Cross, Anti-Tubercular Society, the Day Nursery and Veteran Welfare fund. At the same time it was suggested that other organizations feeling that they should be included send representatives to the meeting Thursday night.

Women Raise Coin To Light Streets

WEAVERVILLE, Aug. 26.—The Women's Civic Improvement club will undertake to raise money to keep the streets lighted by electricity the rest of the year, notwithstanding that the town voted some time ago to form a lighting district so the expense could be borne by taxation. The tax will be levied by the supervisors, but as no money will come in until the first of next year, the Women's Civic Improvement club will try to raise the money.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

YOST—Vaudeville road show (five acts) and "Unguarded Women," with Richard Dix and Bebe Daniels.

WALKER—"Revelation," with Viola Dana and Monte Blue.

WEST END—"The Heart Buster," with Tom Mix.

TOM MIX PICTURE AGAIN AT WEST END

Tom Mix and Tony, his wonder horse, are in town again. They are at the West End theater in a new William Fox production titled "The Heart Buster."

Fans who have been thrilled by Tom and Tony in "Just Tony," "Mile-a-Minute Romeo," "The Trouble Shooter," "The Lone Star Ranger," and "Ladies to Board," will appreciate "The Heart Buster."

These inseparable chums are up to all sorts of things in this new picture. For instance, Tom kidnaps everybody in town who can perform a marriage to prevent his sweetheart from marrying a foreign crook and as a result lands in jail at a very crucial moment and everything seems lost. The wedding march is struck up and the villain and the girl are marching toward the altar. Then Tony ambles up outside the jail and well it would spoil it for you if you knew what Tom and Tony did, but Tom gets out of jail and prevents the marriage by seconds.

"REVELATION" HAILED AS FILM MASTERPIECE

"Revelation" Metro's screen classic, which opened last night at Walker's theater is without doubt one of the finest pictures of the season.

There are three reasons for this. First, Mabel Wagnall's story of the little Parisian model who won her soul back through the gentle influence of posing as the Madonna, makes ideal screen material, with its swift action and vivid romance.

Second, the picture has a wonderful all-star cast that includes Viola Dana, Monte Blue, Lew Cody, Marjorie Daw, Frank Currier, Edward Connelly, George Siegmann, Kathleen Key, Otto Matison, Bruce Guerin, and Ethel Wales.

Third, it shows the best direction in the career of George D. Baker.

"UNGUARDED WOMEN" ON SCREEN AT YOST

"Unguarded Women" is the title of the picture now showing at the Yost theater. It features Bebe Daniels, Richard Dix and Mary Astor, with Walter McGrail, Frank Losee, Helen Lindroth, Harry Messtayer, Donald Hall, Joe King and others playing in support. The story tells of a young man who gives up the girl he loves to marry another for whose social position he feels himself directly responsible.

The scenes are laid for the most part in Peking, China—colorful Peking in the land of romance and adventure. Then, too, there are scenes on Long Island, scenes of the ultra-fashionable smart set, with its beautiful homes, gorgeous gowns, etc.

Alan Crosland, who made "Enemies of Women," "Under the Red Robe," "Three Weeks" and other pictures equally as successful, produced "Unguarded Women." It is a fine example of what is to be expected from the same source in the near future.

HIGHWAY REPORT IS DUE IN OCTOBER

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26.—The report of the committee of nine named by Governor Friend W. Richardson to make a complete survey of the state highway system with a view to recommending a plan for completing its construction will be ready some time in October, according to George G. Radcliff, chairman of the State Board of Control.

Radcliff says that a sub-committee is now working on a report that will provide for a reclassification of all the roads in California. While some of the roads may be dropped from the state system, Radcliff declares the big problem to be solved is working out a system to finance future construction.

OLD RETIRED SEA CAPTAIN ENDS LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—After having carefully penned a note bequeathing his choicest possession—an old sea clock—to his only friend, and leaving a $5 note for his landlady "in payment for the gas I am using," Charles Reid, an old sea captain, turned on the gas in his room at 24 Cassell avenue yesterday morning, sat down in an easy chair and welcomed death.

His friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Oles, who occupied the flat above him, found his body last night. He suffered tortures from neuritis, she told police, and evidently killed himself to end his pain.

A second note, addressed to the coroner, said: "I am Charles Reid, 86 years old, a native of England, a retired sea captain." The old sea clock was all that remained of the aged mariner's many voyages, Mrs. Oles said, and its bells had struck from every bridge he trod.

OPERATION ADVISED FRIEND SAID "DON'T DO IT!"

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First. Proved Good Advice

Chicago, Illinois.—"Just a few lines to let you know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was married going on for three years, and went to a doctor and was taking treatments twice a week for pains every month. I used to lie in bed three or four days with them and the doctor would call and inject something into my arm to put me asleep so I would not feel the pains. At last she said I would have to be operated on if I wanted any children. Well, I just happened to go to see a friend with her first baby and I told her I was going to the hospital, and she said, 'Don't do it! You go and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you won't need any operation.' So my husband got me a bottle right away. Now I have two lovely children. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman. It has helped me and a lot of my friends." Mrs. A. McANDLESS, 1709 South Morgan St., Chicago, Illinois.

$1.65 ON $100 NEW TAX RATE SET FOR SANTA ANA BY ACTION OF TRUSTEES

A tax rate of $1.65 on the $100 valuation on Santa Ana property today had been officially established by the city council last night of an ordinance fixing the rate and allotting various amounts to the several funds.

The amount is five cents in excess of the rate last year but virtually reflects a decrease, for the council this year had to provide 14 cents for the joint outfall and city sewer lines to connect with the outfall. Bonds for these improvements were voted since establishment of the rate last year.

It was also explained by J. W. Tubbs, president of the board of trustees, some of the bond funds that did not carry an apportionment last year because of surplus.

The library fund was reduced from 13½ cents to 12 cents and the saving distributed to bond funds.

An increase in the assessed valuation by approximately $2,000,000 and completion of payment of some old bonds made it possible for the council to carry additional tax burdens incurred by voting of new bonds with an addition of only 5 cents to the total.

The tax was distributed to the various funds as follows: General, 45c; street, 30c; sewer, 5½c; fire, 19½c; park, advertising, 1c; each; flower street bridge bonds, 1-4c; North Main street bridge bonds, No. 1, 1½c; water bonds No. 2, 3c; water No. 3, 4c; water No. 4, 2½c; water No. 5, 1¾c; water No. 6, 7½c; sewer bonds No. 1, 1½c; sewer No. 2, 1-4c; fire bonds No. 1, ½c; fire No. 2, 2-4c; city hall No. 2, ¾c; street apparatus, ¾c; Main street improvement bonds, 1¾c; East First street improvement bonds, ¾c; Bristol street improvement bonds, ¾c; public school street bonds, ¾c; street culverts, 7c; joint outfall sewer bonds, 7-14c; electric fire alarm bonds, 1¾c; eastside fire engine house, ¾c; westside fire engine house, ¾c; fire department apparatus, 1-4c; West Fifth street improvement bonds, 1¾c; library, 12c; planning commission fund, 1½c.

Protests by residents revealed to the council that the Pickwick stage company had established on East First street, between Oak and Lacy, and without knowledge of the body, a garage for repair of its cars. Two protests were filed by residents, declaring that repair and operation of cars at the garage at night disturbed the peace and quiet of the neighborhood. City Attorney Z. B. West Jr. was directed to make investigations and report recommendations to the council for abatement of the nuisance.

Rescinding a former action authorizing preparation by the city engineer of plans and specifications for paving Baker street from Hickey to Santa Clara, the council directed the city attorney and city engineer to start proceedings for widening the street from forty to sixty feet. The original instruction was for paving thirty-eight feet of the forty-foot street. It was pointed out that it would be establishing a bad precedent to permit paving of the street without sidewalk and parking reservations.

B. R. Ford was awarded the contract for laying a five inch pavement on Santa Clara avenue, east from Bush street to Lincoln street. The contract price was $50,810.52. The bid for paving was 17½ cents per square foot, installation of sewers and curb bringing the total to the quoted amount. Bids for the work were rejected several weeks ago because George A. Simpson, low bidder, failed to give a bond in sufficient amount. The new price, it was said, was less than Simpson's previous low bid. Six contracting firms submitted proposals last night.

Trustees Nat. Neff and E. B. Collier were appointed a committee to investigate an offer by Henry A. Windsor to make trash, old can and paper collections in the city for $1200 per month. The offer carried a provision for an equal division of profits from the sale of waste paper. It was estimated this would return the city approximately $300 per month.

The trustees accepted without comment a check for $2837.41 from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company as a franchise tax on gross receipts in this city for the past year.

A. E. French, representing the owners of the Junior high school subdivision on South Main street, was given permission to install a temporary line connecting houses on the tract with the Main street sewer. Contemplated opening of South Sycamore street later will provide a sewer outlet for the tract, and when the street is opened and the sewer line installed on that street, the tract will be served by that line.

One of the important resolutions adopted last night was that giving notice of intention of the council to open Sycamore street north from Washington to Fifteenth street. A former attempt to open the street by agreement among property owners failed.

Set Broadway Park Hearing

September 15 was set as the date for a hearing on the formation of a district for improving North Broadway Park by installation of water and sewer mains, sidewalk and curbing and pavement.

Following suggestion of G. W. Knox, city engineer, plans were being made today for the calling by Tubbs of a meeting of the joint outfall sewer councils for consideration of the application of the La Habra and Buena Park sanitary districts for admission to the joint outfall operations.

Reporting that the city contract with the county for taking care of the health department of the city, covered the point, Tubbs said that the board of supervisors had withdrawn its request that the city pay a portion of the expense of maintenance of a meat inspector for the city. This was provided for in the contract, Tubbs said.

He also pointed out that the county had billed the city for the services of a city health officer for three months, when, as a matter of fact, a health officer was employed for only two or three days of the period. The supervisors agreed to refund the overpayment, the mayor said.

The council denied the request of W. E. Gates and the Pacific Electric Railway company for abandonment of an alley, virtually a portion of Maple avenue, between First and Second streets. The clerk was directed to request the railway company to remove a fence along the alley.

Signed by owners of 53 per cent of the frontage on the street, a petition for paving Washington avenue full width from Lowell to Artesia was referred to the petitioners for more signatures.

HARRY LEE TO BATTLE CLISBY FRIDAY NIGHT

Life-Guard Has Chance to Get out of Rut; Herman and LaVoie in Semi-Go

Huntington Beach Card
Main Event—Neil Clisby vs.
Harry Lee, 175 pounds.
Semi-windup—Checkie Herman vs. Georgie LaVoie, 118 pounds.
Preliminaries—Battling Dody
vs. Wallopington Wilson, 145 pounds; Teddy Ferris vs. Babe
Orton, 125 pounds; Young
Garcia vs. Johnny Telles, 118 pounds; Don Michie vs. Gene Rose, 145 pounds.

"Husky Harry" Lee, broad-shouldered Huntington Beach life-guard, aspires to honors within the hemp-square. Next Friday night at Kid Mexico's arena and in his home city, Lee will learn whether there is much use for him to continue his flat pursuits.

Lee, who, in the parlance of the mitt business, is an in-and-outter, has signed to meet Neil Clisby, burly San Bernardino colored light heavyweight, in the main event.

Clisby is a terrific hitter, a fair boxer. He stopped Joe Bonds at San Bernardino in ten seconds last week. Huntington Beach bugs will recall Bonds. Clisby also recently kayaked Jack Ford and outpointed Tom Kelly, last week a main eventer at Hollywood.

At times Lee has seemed to be on the road to great things. He is powerful and he can hit. He is game and exceptionally fast for such a large young man. But just when he has showed everything he seems to fall in a rut and is forced to work himself up to the top event class again. Clisby is something of a trial horse. He can hit and he can take 'em. If Lee can decisively defeat him he should gain confidence, about the only thing he seems to lack.

Checkie Herman and Georgie LaVoie, bantamweight and featherweight at several nearby clubs, have been matched for the semi-final. LaVoie, claimant to the bantamweight championship of Canada, has appeared at Huntington Beach before.

Four preliminaries will open the show.

Arizona Picnic Held At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 26.—Over 100 former residents of the town of Chandler, Arizona, attended an Arizona picnic held here yesterday on the beach, including in many sports after a bountiful lunch served on the sand. The former residents of Chandler were all from Southern California, and after their happy day spent at the mounting shirt, they planned for home, planning for another such meeting in the future.

RAIN HALTS TENNIS TOURNAMENT PLAY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Rain today caused a postponement of play in the National Tennis club. All of today's matches and those carried over from yesterday will be played tomorrow if weather permits.

The one great surprise yesterday came when Richard Norris Williams, captain of the American Olympic tennis team and the third ranking player of the United States was defeated by George Lott Jr., an 18-year old Chicago boy who recently won the junior national championship. Lott was an unknown until late last season but he has developed amazingly this year.

TO ATTEND MEET
NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 26.—A committee consisting of Dr. C. G. Huston, S. A. Meyer, George T. Peabody and Lew Wallace have been appointed to attend the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county in the Woman's club parlors in La Habra on Thursday, August 28.

In the United States there are more than seven thousand women who are engaged professionally in directing public recreation work.

ACTION IN DOUBLES FINALS

Helen Wills and Mrs. Wightman (at back) are shown during a play in the final doubles at the national tennis championship meet, Forest Hills, N. Y. At the front are Miss Jessup and Miss Goss who lost to the "big two." This match was played after Miss Wills had won the national singles title.

Poor judgment in the selection of locations and bad management in the promotion of the program caused the French Olympic committee to turn up at the completion of the Paris games with a deficit of two million francs. This represented a little more than $100,000. Half of the loss was covered by insurance and the other half had to be borne by the government.

When asked if the experience of the French committee didn't make them less anxious to accept the responsibility for the 1928 games, one of the members of the Amsterdam committee replied that they expected to make money out of their games because they intended to apply business methods to the promotion and organization of the games.

The Colombes stadium, where the track and field games were held, was too far from the city. Train service was terrible and the ordinary Frenchman couldn't afford to hire a cab, and those with money didn't feel inclined to do it. With the exception of the final matches in the rugby and soccer football competition, the Pershing stadium, erected by the engineers of the A. E. F. and presented to Paris, would have been adequate and just as good as the Colombes stadium, and it would have been much more accessible.

The committee spent about 250,000 francs building a tennis plant back of the athletic stadium. It was also too far from the city and, with the exception of the final matches, there were only a few hundred in the stands. It was a miserable place, and the tournament was horribly handled by the insolent Allen Muhr.

Treated Royally
Muhr, who professes to be an American, visited the United States last summer and was entertained royally at Forest Hills and Germantown. He pleaded with the United States Lawn Tennis association to send a team to the Olympic games, pointing out that the Americans would be a big drawing card.

When the same officials and players, who had acted as hosts to him, arrived in Paris, they found him guilty of a very short memory. He didn't remember, or he didn't have time to recall all the favors that had been done for him, and he proceeded to treat the players like a bunch of third-rate prize-fighters.

The details have been printed before. There is only one regret now, and that is that Julian S.

Babe Ruth hit his 40th home run to the center field wall and helped the Yanks win from the Indians, 8 to 3.

George Kelly's error caused the Giants to lose the first game to the Cubs, 3 to 2, but he hit a homer, two doubles and a single in the second game and the Giants won, 11 to 7.

Bunching hits in the fourth and fifth inning the Robins scored five runs and beat the Cards, 5 to 3. Hornsby hit his 21st homer.

Flagstead's double, Wamby's single and an error by Manush in the eleventh inning scored the run that gave the Red Sox a 4 to 3 victory over the Tigers.

Three hits bunched off Mays in the tenth inning enabled the Braves to beat the Reds, 6 to 5.

DON WILLIAMS WILL REENTER TROJAN RANKS

Many Former Poly Football
Satellites Scheduled to Wear U. S. C. Spangles

Don ("Greek") Williams, former Santa Ana high school football star, will re-enter the University of Southern California this fall and compete for a position on the Trojan freshman football team, it was learned here today.

Williams enrolled at the U. S. C. last February. He attended classes a few weeks and then dropped out. "Greek," a halfback on the Santa Ana's 1922 Southern California championship eleven and the star of the Poly team last fall, is regarded as one of the best all-around football players ever turned out here.

He kicks, passes and plays well in every department of the game. He tips the Fairbanks at close to 170 pounds.

The "Greek" will not be the only former Santa Ana high school star who will be seen in the Trojan colors this year.

"Big Bill" Cole, former star and assistant coach here, attended summer school and made up some back credits that will enable him to compete for a varsity berth. Cole's scholarship card was packed full of good grades and there will be no question as to his eligibility.

Cole, a mere stripling of some 220 pounds, starred on the U. S. C. Frosh eleven of 1922. He probably will be used in the line.

"Eeny" Wilcox, ex-Poly captain and quarterback, and signal-barker on last season's U. S. C. freshman team, has an excellent chance to make the grade with the varsity this fall.

Newell ("Jeff") Cravath is almost a sure shot to be named varsity center, local football experts believe. Cravath was the individual star of the Trojan peagreeners last season and Coach "Gloomy" Guy Henderson said he was great first team material.

Harold Knight is another former local boy who is expected to make a strong bid for a backfield berth. Knight played halfback for the Poly squad of 1922.

13-POUND CORBINA CRAVATH'S CATCH

C. C. ("Gavvy") Cravath, former home run king of the big leagues, was recently presented with a silver loving cup here for having landed a 13-pound corbina at Laguna Beach. This is the largest corbina caught in waters there for several years. Cravath put up a gallant fight with the slippery captor and landed it after hours of struggle. He made the catch on a four-ounce outfit using some of Farman's Laguna Beach grown mussels for bait.

The corbina was caught on the beach in front of the Laguna Beach hotel and a number of local fishermen viewed the catch with great interest.

Fights and Fighters

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight champion, won a 10-round decision from Homer Smith, Michigan. Renault scored seven knockdowns, one in the first and two each in the fourth, ninth and tenth.

NEW YORK.—Odds on Young Stribling to win from Paul Berlenbach in their bout here tomorrow night were shortened when Stribling returned from his Saratoga training camp with a heavy cold. Betting may be at even money when they enter the ring.

EAST CHICAGO.—The ten-round match between Fred Fulton, St. Paul heavyweight, and Erminio Spalla, which was to be held here Sept. 5, has been called off because Spalla insisted upon a flat guarantee of $7500 which promoters refused to pay.

Water for This Fall's Covercrops

There has been quite a bit of natural hesitancy in the minds of orchardists this month, as to just what is the wise thing to do in planting covercrops. Everyone, of course, wants to plant a covercrop but has been unable to decide definitely just when to plant—on account of the water and power shortage.

Our best information is that there will be plenty of power available by September 15th to take care of all orange grove irrigation needs in this district. It is extremely important to get our covercrops in at the right time. Melilotus the best all around covercrop known, is best planted now within the next six or seven weeks. The earlier now, the better, so as to take advantage of the longer, warmer growing days. Planted now Melilotus will make a wonderful growth before the first of March.

We have the same excellent quality of Scarified Melilotus seed that we have carried for the past eight years. It is cheaper this year than it has been—only $5.50 per 100 lbs., which means your seed will cost you but $1.10 per acre.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

THE COMBINATION SPORT SHIRT
Like that message to Mars, the ideal sport shirt is always on the way, but never arrives. Designers have worked wonders with the present-day shirt, giving it a comfort and smartness undreamed of ten years ago. Nevertheless, one's shirt persists in riding up at the waist, unless, indeed, you go back to first principles and pin it to the top of the drawers, as any forthright and practical grandmother would instantly suggest.

The type of golf or tennis shirt, pictured in the accompanying sketch, is one that has made its way very slowly. Worn for twenty-five years by "crack" players in England and upon the Continent, it has, for some reason or other, not commended itself to Americans until within the last few seasons. Yet, a casual glance will show how simple and effective this garment is in surmounting the objection to the mounting shirt, which, ever and anon, makes a man pause, sheepishly, in his game to stuff it back where it belongs.

Shirt and drawers are cut in one continuous garment and, of course, it is impossible for the shirt to creep up at the waist, because it is firmly held down. The shirt has a self collar, wide elbow-length sleeves and a patch breast pocket, though these details are frequently varied. The drawers are short, loose-fitting and have full bottoms. The materials of which this shirt is made are chevrons, Oxford, flannels, silk intermixtures and the like in plain white, plain colors or neat patterns in which white predominates. Above all, such a garment should look cool and, therefore, the white shirt is customarily preferred. You may, however, procure such a style with a white shirt and "fancy" or patterned drawers showing unobtrusive stripes. This lends an agreeable and unusual effect, if you are one of the men who is as fastidious about clothes concealed as about those revealed.

The main consideration about a sporting shirt is that it should be exactly suited to the game whatever it be. No hard-and-fast rules can be laid down. Some men do not like the combination shirt; others will wear no other. Only experience will show what best befits individual requirements. Choose all your wardrobe upon that well-established principle of dress.

SETS COMPLETE FOR PICTURE AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 26.—Two sets of the pictures now being produced by Warner Brothers studios are now completed. The light-house is a cement structure fifty feet in height fully equipped with revolving light and in fact everything that belongs to a lighthouse. Its position overlooking the town and miles of rugged shoreline presents a most fitting background for a marine picture. A large house has been built directly at the side of the lighthouse, an old fashioned house, such as a typical New Englander might build and this has been fitted up with a yard where the old well and moss-covered bucket has a prominent place. Loads of furniture, antique and well-worn, were brought on the scene and will be used in the picture. This set is located on the promontory just east of the Dobins-Lowe estate.

At Boat canyon two houses and a structure built from the prow of a schooner have been erected. The story deals with the old wreck of a schooner washed ashore and made into a dwelling for some of the victims of the shipwreck. Walks have been built along the rugged places of rough planks and boughs of trees and gives a truly artistic effect.

Mal St. Clair, the director, and Mr. Duncan, owner of Rin Tin Tin, famous German police dog and star of this production, arrived in Laguna on Monday. The filming of the picture will commence Monday night or Tuesday morning.

KEEP INTEREST IN FULLERTON VOTING SHOWN

FULLERTON, Aug. 26.—Voting is proceeding briskly today in the twelve precincts of this city. The keen interest aroused in the campaign, the warm interchange of political and other recriminations, the feeling stirred up by the Ku Klux Klan participation in the contest and the prominence of those who are running for office, all are factors in the situation.

There is expected to be a heavy vote cast and there are some shrewd political forecasters who predict that Fullerton will today roll up a record vote. Supporters of both parties are working hard to get out the constituents in the campaign.

S. C. Hartman, candidate for state assemblyman, and William Schumacher, who is running for reelection as county supervisor, both made eleventh-hour efforts last night to turn the tide of victory in their favor. They spoke in Fullerton, at Anaheim, La Habra and Brea. The Rev. Walter Thornton of this city and Thomas McFadden of Brea, also appearing in support of their candidacy.

KIWANIS TO MEET TONIGHT IN ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Aug. 26.—Kiwianians of Santa Ana, Fullerton, Orange and La Habra will be entertained by the Anaheim Kiwanians tonight with a lecture to be given by G. P. Pardee, chairman of the California Kiwanis district public affairs committee, on the subject, "Reforestation." The local club has made arrangements

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man had a large can containing twelve quarts of oil, its total capacity. A purchaser desired six quarts; but the only means of measurement were a five-pint can and a seven-pint can. By utilizing these cans, and the twelve-pint can, the oilman succeeded in measuring out exactly six quarts of oil, which were delivered to the purchaser in the seven-pint can. How did the oilman do it?

Yesterday's answer:

The triangular piece of carpet was cut into four equal triangles, as shown in the upper drawing. Then the triangles were re-placed to form the square in the lower drawing.

Such a procedure is only possible with a triangle that forms a right angle at the top, and has two equal legs.

Grove Facts

In offering for sale today a 7.42 acre Valencia grove we are going to give you a few facts.

The selling price, $15,000, this young grove in one year will be producing enough to pay its own upkeep and in two years a small profit to the owner. $500 will take care of all expenses for the coming year. We therefore have a cost price on this grove of $14,500 for 7.42 acres, about $2000 per acre.

Each year will add to the value of this property as the trees grow in to full bearing, say 12 years old at which time it will bring, because of its very fine location, the top selling price of groves at that time. And in the meantime it is paying the owner a handsome profit on this very modest investment figured on a basis of average market prices.

New then, this favored piece of land has a value aside from the fixed value of a full bearing grove, due to its extraordinary location. It has a view that can never be taken from it. Catalina Island stands out in the distance, a long stretch of coast line is before you, and in the back are the beautiful rolling hills. In fact scenic Orange County in its blues, greens and grays lies at your feet.

A few years hence such properties as these will bring, as a home site alone, an amount far above the price based on profit on the investment. It's a pleasure to show you this property.

PROJECT MOVES FORWARD

Residents of Orange county owe a vote of thanks to State Highway Commissioner N. T. Edwards of Orange for having brought forward the construction of the coast boulevard to its present status. Since becoming a member of the state commission, Edwards has worked indefatigably for the construction of this highway, with the result that last week a contract was awarded for the grading of the boulevard between Newport bay and Laguna Beach.

This boulevard is destined to play an important part in the development of the Orange county coast, which in the past three or four years has grown tremendously in popularity.

It will be three or four years before the boulevard along the coast is entirely paved. Until it is paved, the boulevard cannot come into its full usefulness, which usefulness will include a division of the through traffic now going on the state highway. The surveys have all been completed. The right of way as far south as Laguna Beach has been procured and the grading contract to that point is let. Paving is virtually completed from Seal Beach to Newport Bay. There remains among things to do, the procuring of a right of way between Laguna Beach and Serra, the grading of that same section, and the paving of the section between Newport bay and Serra. These things cannot be done all at once, but we may rest assured that Commissioner Edwards is as anxious as anyone can be to hasten this important work.

Tax-exempt securities are said to create a serious national problem. But what about the tax-free dollar that is sent direct from Santa Ana to Los Angeles or the mail order house? No part of that goes into building our schools and streets or keeping up our town.

JUST A SUGGESTION

The spirit of co-operation is the force that makes for progress in any town. We have been saying that in the columns of the Register for a long time; so here now is a definite suggestion.

We have many organizations in Santa Ana that have been formed for the purpose of "boosting" one thing or another for the benefit of the community. We do not mean merely the Chamber of Commerce, or the Lions, Kiwanis or Rotary clubs. We mean also the Parent-Teachers' association, the Ebull club, the various church organizations, and most of the fraternal orders.

The majority of them have been going along independent of each other with none accomplishing what the members would like to see them achieve.

Our suggestion is to bring all these bodies together some time. To have a spokesman from each present the aims of each in the matter of community betterment. And then have the whole group present work out a platform upon which every organization member will be ready to stand.

We will probably find that the majority are in agreement on what Santa Ana needs most right now. And through "the team work of every blooming" soul we will steadily build up a finer and more prosperous city.

The lazy fellow who says he would like to be more active in community matters here in Santa Ana "if he could only work with that bunch who are running things," means to say he would like to do things if he didn't have to work to get them done.

HEALTHFUL AIR VALUABLE

The sun has long been recognized as a life-giving and healing force. Now students from the National Institute of Medical Research in London say that many of the ultraviolet rays which are so beneficial in curing rickets come from the sky as much as from the sun and are available even in the hours of a low-lying sun.

But the same elements that hamper our enjoyment of healthful sunshine in a big city act to scatter the sky-rays. High buildings that cut out the sweep of sky and smoke that pollutes the air both serve to dispel the beneficent rays.

Every civilized community of any size today does something to insure a pure water supply for its citizens. Dirty, dark air is almost as great a hazard to health as impure water. Some of these days we will have sanitary engineers who look after our air supply to see that it is kept clean. We may even find a way to have great cities and all their conveniences for business and industry and commerce without shutting out the sky.

SANE EMIGRATION

We have heard much of immigration in these latter years. Here is something on the other side of the shield—about emigration. It comes from the country which is most discriminated against, if there is any real discrimination, in our present immigration law. And it comes from a man whose utterances have not always been regarded as temperate and sober. Premier Mussolini of Italy says, in a recent statement to American correspondents:

"The emigration policy pursued by the Italian government toward the United States, as toward other countries, aims to avoid sending abroad persons who do not correspond to the economic and social needs of the country of immigration. It believes that sending such persons harms the country which receives them, as well as that which sends them. The former is damaged in its economy and the latter in its reputation."

If the Italian government will adhere to this principle, there will be no difficulty between it and America on the immigration problem. And the utterance is one that deserves to be heeded by various other countries which feel aggrieved by the immigration quotas to which they are restricted.

THE RUM NAVY ORGANIZED

Uncle Sam has long been preparing, as Shakespeare might have said, to take up arms against a sea of booze. The celebrated "rum fleet" just beyond the twelve-mile line on the Atlantic coast is immune, thanks to international law, but the rum-runners who bring the stuff from the anchored warehouses into the country by motor boat and sailing craft can be dealt with.

They have not been dealt with adequately heretofore because the government did not have the equipment, and it was considered unethical to use the regular navy against them. Now a separate "rum navy" has been organized, under the control of the Coast Guard, and from now on it is likely to be heard from.

That navy is nothing to laugh at. The mere list of ships is enough to throw a wholesome scare into the hearts of the smugglers. There are 20 destroyers of the World War type, to form the battle line of the fleet. There is a secondary squadron of mine sweepers—presumably to sweep up the incriminating evidence thrown overboard by fleeing smugglers—and about 300 swift, dependable motor boats of various sizes for scout work and shore patrol.

Hereafter the rum-runners infesting the New York and New Jersey coast will no longer have the advantage of the government. The federal fleet should be numerous and strong enough to catch them and smash them. There will be real fights, if the runners continue playing their daring game. The destroyers and armored motor boats will shoot when necessary, and shoot to kill or sink. There will be thrilling stories of rum battles from time to time, to convince the public that our government is still a government of law.

That fleet, however, may need to be supplemented by others on both the east and west coasts, before the smugglers are silenced. And there may have to be corresponding land forces on the northern and southern borders.

Automobiles seem to make life faster for some people and shorter for others.

Accepting a Reform

Long Beach Press

The way of the reformer is difficult. Humanity puts up a stubborn resistance against those movements which are designed for its own benefit. Prohibition is a modern illustration. Science is fairly well agreed that alcohol is a dangerous element; and yet there are millions of persons who insist upon the privileges of imbibing it. That the United States, and any country or race, will be better off when alcohol is finally banned, has been declared by impartial observers of the effects of prohibition as thus far imperfectly enforced in America; but the cry of those who thirst for strong drink, even though it harms them, is insistent.

Then there is the twelve-hour day in the steel mills. The late President Harding pleaded with the mill owners to abolish the practice, declaring that he would be proud, indeed, if his administration marked the passage of the twelve-hour working day in American life. The steel men reluctantly listened to his appeal; and now they are glad that they did. The workmen, too, are happy and contented. An investigation has proved that neither the manufacturers nor their employees would go back to the old order, if they could.

This same result will be found when child labor is finally banished from the land. Eventually, prohibition will be accepted as right and proper; and, as one of California's Federal judges recently said to The Press, future generations will marvel that there were times when men voluntarily forced themselves to the use of intoxicating liquor.

Tariff on Sugar

Stockton Independent

The Tracy Chamber of Commerce, having in mind the beet growing and sugar manufacturing industry of its district, took the lead in protesting against any move to reduce at the present time the tariff on sugar. Now comes the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce voicing a like protest as follows:

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce protests against a reduction in the tariff of sugar at this time on the grounds that it would work an inestimable hardship to the beet farmers and cane growers in the United States, Philippines and Hawaii, practically all of whom do their own farming, and urges that the change proposed by the tariff commission be not put into effect until complete study of production costs in United States, Philippines and Hawaii has been made for a period of not less than three years, including fiscal years 1923 and 1924.

The present duty on Cuban sugar is $1.75 per 100 pounds, and is designed to equalize the difference in costs of producing sugar in California, Hawaii and the Southern States, with the lowered costs of producing sugar in Cuba.

It is merely another illustration of the value of the protective principle to the farmer—and especially, on account of distance from market centers, to the California farmer.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

YOUR MORTAR—VITAMINS

Within the past few months you have perhaps read about a United States, and also a Canadian physician, having isolated vitamins. You will remember that there was Vitamin Fat Soluble A, which was found in milk, egg yolk, butter fat, whole cereals, and the leaves of lettuce, spinach, celery, etc. There was also Water Soluble B, found in milk and whole cereals.

Now the strange thing about these vitamins is that they are not foods at all, and yet if they are left out of the diet, you will waste away and may die from starvation. It would seem that their effect upon certain foods is to render them more fit for absorption into the blood. They also change what might be harmful combinations into real body builders.

Some one has well said, "You can have your bricks and your building stones, but without mortar you cannot erect anything." The idea then was to liken the vitamins to the mortar which helped to hold the bricks to the bricks, or the stones to the stones, or the bricks to the stones. You will remember that most of the diet tables in hospitals, institutions and even in some of our restaurants have the foodstuffs listed with their food value in calories, so that you can thus eat a balanced meal.

The general idea of a balanced meal being that you should eat in the proportion of 1 to 2, 2 to 3. That is with one ounce of butter or fat, eat two ounces of meat or eggs, and three ounces of bread and vegetables. This is all right if you take a little exercise daily, otherwise the meat and eggs should be cut down. But there is something else to remember.

The mere fact that you put these foods into you, doesn't mean that they build up accordingly.

Why, your particular body may not want much more than half the food you take in. It may perhaps use up or even store up the starches and allow the other foods to pass through and use up only a portion of them. It is here that the vitamins enter into consideration. To what extent is not really known at present.

The thing for you to remember is that the foods mentioned above, as containing these vitamins, should be eaten to some extent every day. You will thus have the satisfaction of knowing that your mortar, your "mixing" combination, is doing its work for you with the other foods eaten.

The Grass Widow

SONNET

Oh, how much more doth beauty beauteous seem,
By that sweet ornament which truth doth give!
The rose looks fair, but fairer we deem
For that sweet odor which doth in it live.
The canker blooms have full as deep a dye,
As the perfumed tincture of the roses;
Hang on such thorns, and play as wantonly
When summer's breath their masked buds discloses;
But for their virtue only is their show,
They live unwood'd, and unrespected fade;
Die to themselves. Sweet roses do not so;
Of their sweet deaths are sweetest odors made:
And so of you, beauteous and lovely youth,
When they shall fade, my verse distills your truth.
—William Shakespeare.

Study Crossing Accidents

Oakland Tribune

Railroad and utilities commissioners from all parts of the country met recently in Chicago to consider once more the problem of railroad-highway crossing accidents. Speakers, as might be expected, revealed some startling and even terrifying figures and yet it is encouraging to discover that progress is being made in the lessening of these casualties.

There has been an increase of 8.3 per cent in population in the year ending with December 31, 1923, and a decrease of 1.2 per cent in miles of railroad owned. The number of grade crossings has increased by 6.7 per cent and the number of automobiles by 20.9 per cent. The report shows an increase in total fatalities at grade crossings from 1,969 in 1917, to 2,268, or 15.2 per cent. The total injuries jumped from 4,764 to 61,314 or 32.5 per cent. The total automobile fatalities in the United States increased from 9,184 in 1917, to 14,000 in 1922, an increase of 52.4 per cent.

It will be seen that the grade crossing accidents have not increased as rapidly as the general accidents, and, stated in another way, that in 1917 there was one casualty at grade crossings for each 1,224 registered automobiles, whereas, in 1923, there was one for each 2,000 registered automobiles.

As the figures now stand it is a practical certainty that one in every 2,000 machines will meet with a grade crossing accident. It is a staggering revelation, but it indicates a condition about half as serious as that which obtained in 1917.

Worth While Verse

CONTENT

Sweet are the thoughts that savor of content—
The quiet mind is richer than a crown;
Sweet are the nights in careless slumber spent—
The poor estate scorns fortune's angry frown;
Such sweet content, such minds, such sleep, such bliss,
Beggars enjoy, when princes oft do miss.

The homely house that harbors quiet rest,
The cottage that affords no pride or care,
The mean that greets with country music best,
The sweet consort of mirth and music's fare,
Obscured life sets down a type of bliss;
A mind content both crown and kingdom is.

Time to Smile

HAD IT FIGURED OUT

The English language, and its method of forming words from roots, leads to many grave errors. An example of this is the yarn of the little boy in an English school. This lad's teacher had been giving a talk on architecture, beginning with that of ancient and trickling on down to now. The pupils had shown the usual lack of attention.

Finally, before moving on to the modern architecture, the teacher began a recapitulation of the principles of the earlier periods.

"Does any one here feel sure he knows what I've taught you?" One little boy's hand shot up.
"One! Well, suppose you tell me what a buttress is." "A buttress," said the lad proud, "is a nanny goat."

Timber and Water

Visalia Delta

California contains 15 per cent of all the remaining timber in the United States, or enough to build 43,000,000 five-room bungalows, or to lay a board floor one inch thick over the entire states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The timber resources of the Golden State are valued at $750,000,000, an amount sufficient to start a bank account of over $200 for every man, woman and child in the state. Twenty-five thousand people are yearly engaged in the lumbering and wood-using industries of California and the value of timber and lumber produced amounts to $100,000,000. Burned forests build no homes.

Eighty-five per cent of the 4,000,000 acres of irrigated land in California are directly dependent on the national forests for water supply. In these national forests also is located two-thirds of the 7,000, 000 horse power of potential hydro-electric development. Many cities and towns in the state are entirely dependent on our forest areas for their domestic and municipal water supply. Fires cause erosion, floods and loss of water resources.

The forests of California are the home of wild life. It is estimated that in them there are 250,000 deer, 12,000 bear, 10,000 mountain sheep, 500 antelope and 150 elk. Practically all the important trout streams of the state have their sources within forest areas. Forest fires destroy both fish and game.

The National Forests of California are the greatest summer playgrounds of America. They were visited in 1923 by more than 425,000 people in search of health, rest and recreation, 88 per cent of whom were motorists. Would you burn up your own playgrounds?

Greenland Huge Sheet of Ice

With measurably green Iceland behind them, the American round the world fliers will recognize Greenland because of the ice!

Such, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society, are some of the paradoxes of geography.

"Greenland may look good to the American airmen because it is on the fringe of the home continent," continues the bulletin, "but they will find it vastly different from their own land, especially on the east coast where the first stop is scheduled at Angmagssalik."

"This east coast of Greenland has been dubbed 'the most inhospitable shore in the world.' A broad stream of icebergs and smaller fragments of ice is constantly moving southward along the coast, forming a barrier that is impenetrable by ships for a large part of the year. The airmen may fly over this with ease if all goes well, but their ability to land successfully on the floating ice in case they are forced down is problematical.

"The ice is troublesome in still another way because it may prevent the landing of supplies. After the airmen fly over the offshore ice barrier, however, they are likely to find bay and inlets wholly free of ice at this season."

"Angmagssalik is the only permanent settlement on the east coast. Its population consists of several hundred Eskimos and a mere handful of Danes—trader, missionary, doctor and a few minor officials. In the summer a considerable volume of water flows out from glacial rivers centering at Angmagssalik which tends to make an opening in the drifting off-shore ice. There is a better chance of a ship's getting through at that station, therefore, than at most other points on the east coast."

"When the fliers leave the east coast they will strike southward skirt the southern end of Greenland at Cape Farewell and fly a short distance northward on the western coast of Iqvitut. They will be tracing the path that was followed by the famous old Viking, Erik the Red, who discovered Greenland from Iceland in 983 A. D., and lived to see his son Lief Erikson, push on to America along the remainder of the airmen's route."

"At Iqvitut the fliers will be near the remains of one of the most interesting colonies the world has known, the settlement built up on the edge of America by Erik and his followers and conducted as a Christian community 500 years before Columbus crossed the Atlantic. On the narrow ice-free strip of coast, some 5,000 men of Norwegian blood maintained this colony and another farther north for several centuries. In addition to substantial houses they have a cathedral, 16 churches, a monastery and a nunnery. A recent bishop lived at the southern settlement.

"If the airmen should strike off across from the east to the west coast instead of doubling Cape Farewell, they would survey a unique terrain. Greenland's mountains are icy as the missionary song has it. All mountains that are high enough are icy even under the Equator. But, the song missed the real point: Greenland's valleys are icy—filled solidly full of ice, in fact. It is doubtful if anywhere else in the world such a tremendous ice sheet exists as in Greenland. The snows of perhaps a dozen or more millenniums have built up a crystal blanket that in places is six or seven thousand feet thick. It has buried valleys, hills and mountains alike, making central Greenland into a huge snow and ice plateau, a single tremendous glacier with countless tentacles that extend down into the coast fjords, ever feeding icebergs to the ocean."

"Greenland is the largest island in the world, having an area of 750,000 or more square miles. So vast is the land and so huge the ice cap that it is estimated that if Greenland's ice were spread out over the United States it would cover the entire country a quarter of a mile deep."
